Tenn. Governor Named Demo Keynoter

Clement Gets Assignment; Adlai "Glad"

Friendly Supporter Of Stevenson's Bid Says He'll Do Best

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement, a friendly backer of Adlai Stevenson's bid for another Democratic presidential nomination, was named today to keynote his party's national convention.

Selection of Clement, 36, himself considered a possible vice presidential candidate, was made by 13 members of the party's convention arrangements committee. The convention opens Aug. 13 in Chicago.

Chairman Paul M. Butler said Clement was chosen "because of his familiarity with the issues and his capacity to discuss them fluently and capably, and the impression he has made around the country."

Assignment Unexpected

In Nashville, Clement told reporters at a special press conference tonight:

"I did not expect this assignment. There were many other capable men who could have done an excellent job, but I'll do the very best I can to represent the Democratic party and the American people."

Butler said 17 or 18 other persons were discussed before the committee decided upon Clement, who has a reputation as one of the party's spellbinding orators.

The committee met for nearly three hours before announcing its selection.

Stevenson said he was "very glad to hear" of Clement's selection.

"Gov. Clement is a most gifted speaker," Stevenson said, adding: "I am sure he will be an eloquent and forceful spokesman for the Democratic party."

Stevenson Holds Edge

Stevenson holds the greatest preconvention delegate strength of all the announced or dark-horse Democratic presidential candidates.

Clement has described Stevenson as the "greatest candidate ever to be denied the presidency of the United States" in a statement at the recent governor's conference. Stevenson won the party's nomination in 1952 but lost the election to President Eisenhower.

Clement has shied away from publicly endorsing Stevenson's 1956 bid but is known to be friendly toward him.

Hoaxers Held As Kidnaping Clues Sought

Phone Calls Send Baby's Mother Into Lonely, Futile Vigil

WESTBURY, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—The search for kidnaped Peter Weinberger bogged down today in a welter of hoax calls from heartless meddlers. Police turned this way and that, without a clue.

No trace of the five-weeks-old boy has been found since he was seized from the patio of his home here in midafternoon of July 4. Nor has there been a scrap of hard evidence that the child is still alive.

Two men were arrested in New York early today. Police said they admitted hoax telephone calls that sent the baby's mother, Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger, into the night in a lonely, perilous, fruitless search for her son.

Mother Carried $5,000

With $5,000 cash on her to meet a ransom demand, the tiny, brunette mother spent 70 agonizing minutes parked at a lonely Queens intersection in New York City. With pounding heart, she awaited a promised rendezvous with the kidnaper.

Her vigil was a waste of time. Even as she waited, police said, her two tormentors were phoning her home anew at least three more times from taverns and drug stores. They poured more anguish into the heart of Mrs. Weinberger's husband, Morris, with their misleading information.

"They said they weren't interested in the money," New York Deputy Police Inspector Raymond V. Martin said. "They just wanted to see the cops run around."

Calls Traced, Pair Seized

Mrs. Weinberger, red-eyed, her nerves near the breaking point, drove home in despair. She arrived a scant two hours before dawn.

Meanwhile, the added phone calls had proved the undoing of the two hoaxers, both in their 20's. Through an operator, the telephone calls were traced and police seized the men.

The pair, an unemployed Queens resident, Gordon T. Rowell, 24, and a parttime Queens bartender, Robert F. Giebler, 26, were booked on charges of giving false information and attempted extortion. Both married, they face up to 10 years in prison if convicted.

Mass Funeral For 67 Killed In Air Disaster

Nearly 250 relatives and friends of 67 persons who died in the crash of a TWA Super-Constellation over the Grand Canyon June 30 attended a mass funeral service in Flagstaff, Ariz., yesterday. Dope Peddling Death Sentence Bill Sent To Ike

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Congress today put sharp new teeth in U. S. laws against dope peddling by passing a bill permitting juries to recommend the death penalty for anyone who sells or gives heroin to children under 18.

The death penalty is not mandatory, and applies only in those states that have capital punishment.

The bill was passed first by the House, then the Senate. It now goes to President Eisenhower for his expected signature.

Compromise Measure

The measure, a compromise of separate bills previously passed by the House and Senate, drastically increased all present penalties for narcotics law violations.

It permits the death penalty to be meted out to persons who peddle or give heroin to persons under the age of 18, if a jury so recommends. Without a jury's recommendation, the penalty could be 10 years to life, even for a first offense.

The bill would outlaw heroin—called the "slow death narcotic"—in the United States except for research purposes. It would require all heroin now held to be surrendered to the Treasury Department within 120 days.

Other Penalties Increased

Other penalties for narcotics law violations were also increased. The new penalties include: For possession of narcotics, 2 to 10 years and a $20,000 fine for a first offense; 5 to 20 years and a $20,000 fine for a second offense; and 10 to 40 years and a $20,000 fine for a third offense.

For selling illicit drugs the new penalties are 5 to 10 years and a $20,000 fine for a first offense, and 10 to 40 years and a $20,000 fine for a second or subsequent offense. In the latter case, there would be no suspension of sentence, probation or parole permitted.

Dulles' Vacation Over

WATERTOWN, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles flew back to Washington today after "a wonderful time" in a 10-day visit to his retreat at Duck Island.

Dulles said he caught some black bass but that the fishing wasn't as good as it might have been.

Two Israelis And Arab Slain

JERUSALEM, July 9 (AP)—Three persons were reported killed today in new violence on the Israel-Jordan border.

Tension gripped the Israeli sector of Jerusalem after recurring reports that Jordan was massing troops across the border.

There was a similar wave of excitement last week in the neighboring Arab states, after Jordan claimed the Israelis were concentrating troops on the border. The Israeli government denied the charge.

An Israeli official spokesman said today that Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Bu[illegible], chief of the U.N. Palestine truce organization, was satisfied Israeli troops were not massing in the Jerusalem area, focal point of the tension.

An Israeli army spokesman said two Israeli travelers were killed when their car was ambushed in the Arava Valley between the southern end of the Dead Sea and the Ein Hussub settlement, near the Jordan border.

In Amman, a Jordan army spokesman said a civilian was killed in an exchange of gunfire between Israeli and Jordan forces in the Jerusalem area.

Eden Rejects Soviet Arms Slash Proposal

LONDON, July 9 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden told Russia today her suggestion for an early cutback of Western forces in Germany "does not seem practicable."

In a note to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, Eden said any East-West understanding in Europe must leave West Europeans satisfied that "existing guarantees for their security" are maintained.

Eden left the door open to a further study of the proposal Bulganin had made last month in his letter to seven Western leaders, including President Eisenhower.

"Comprehensive arrangements to take into account both disarmament and urgent political questions, notably the reunification of Germany, would make real progress possible," he said. "I shall always be ready to give any help I can in this."

Four U.S. Jets Crash But All Pilots Safe

TOKYO, July 9 (AP)—Six U. S. Sabre Jets attempted to land at Itazuke Air Base in a thunderstorm today and only two made it without mishap. But all six pilots came through safely.

The F86 fighters, which had taken off amid scattered clouds, were circling the base to land when the storm suddenly lashed Itazuke.

The first two made the landing. But the third crashed on the runway and blocked the strip. The other three planes tried to reach alternate bases but ran out of fuel and the pilots bailed out. All were reported safe hours later.

U.S. Employment Reaches 66,503,000, Record High

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The government reported today that more Americans held jobs in June —66,503,000 of them—than ever before.

Only three times in the past has the national employment figure gone past 65 million—last August, when the previous record was set with 65,448,000; last October, with 65,161,000, and May of this year, with 65,238,000.

Today's report, by the Commerce and Labor departments, carried through June 16. It did not reflect the results of the steel strike which began June 30.

The departments said that while the number of jobs was going up, unemployment increased by 300,000 in June to 2,900,000. They said both gains, in employment and unemployment, were largely due to students and graduates joining the labor force.

The unemployment total has not shown much change from month to month.

The report also said that average weekly earnings in manufacturing and other industries rose $1 in June to $79.40, a record for the month. The average working week was 40.1 hours in June, up one-tenth of an hour over May and down six-tenths of an hour from June a year ago.

Over the year, weekly pay was shown to have gone up an average of $3.29, with most groups reporting some increases. The largest increase was $7.64 in ordnance, followed by $5.25 in the food industry. Weekly average gains of more than $4 were shown for primary metals, machinery, tobacco and petroleum. In the rubber industry, average weekly hours were down more than three hours and weekly earnings dropped.

New Steel Talks To Be Arranged By Government

PITTSBURGH, July 9 (AP)— The federal government prepared today to draw union and management back into contract negotiations in an effort to end the nine-day-old steel strike that is spreading unemployment across the nation.

In addition to 650,000 striking steelworkers upwards of 50,000 employes in steel-related industries have been furloughed. About 30,000 coal miners in steel owned operations will be idled when vacations end at midnight.

Clyde Mills, assistant director of the federal mediation service, said a decision on the date and place for the new round of negotiations will be announced shortly. Neither the union nor the companies had any immediate comment.

Pittsburgh Talks Likely

There were some indications here that the new series of negotiations would be in Pittsburgh. Union officials have expressed opposition to moving the talks away from Pittsburgh again.

The prestrike bargaining sessions that ended in a deadlock were held in New York, described as "neutral ground."

Mills said mediation was decided on after separate meetings with both sides convinced the government it would have to take the initiative in scheduling further peace talks.

The disputing parties have not met since June 30 when the negotiations were broken off six hours before the steelworkers walked out of mills producing 90 per cent of America's steel.

30,000 Railroaders Idle

Railroads alone have laid off more than 30,000 workers. Freight hauling by rail and truck has dipped sharply without shipments of finished steel, iron ore and other raw materials.

The nation's 200,000 soft coal miners were on vacation when the steel strike started. Some 30,000 employed in captive—steel company-owned—mines already have been told they will have no work until the strike ends.

Congress Votes 4 Billion Aid Lid

Ike Appeals For Additional Funds

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Congress put a four billion dollar ceiling on foreign aid spending today, even as President Eisenhower appealed for restoration of "a substantial part" of the money slashed from the program.

The House and Senate passed a compromise bill authorizing a foreign aid outlay 900 million dollars under what Eisenhower had proposed for the fiscal year which began July 1.

Action came on voice votes in both chambers and there was no debate. The authorization bill now goes to the White House.

Between the time the House voted and the Senate took up the measure, the President issued a statement in Gettysburg, Pa., saying "there can be no peace" in the world without a strong mutual security program, nurtured by foreign aid funds.

This appropriations legislation—the actual foreign aid money bill—provides for only $3,600,000,000, or $1,300,000,000 less than the President requested.

"It is my earnest conviction that the successive slashes that the committees of Congress have made in mutual security funds are not in the best interests of the United States of America," Eisenhower said in the statement issued from his farmhouse, where he is convalescing from an intestinal operation.

Despite the President's statement, House Republican Leader Martin (Mass) announced there would be no concerted GOP effort to increase the $3,600,000,000 figure recommended by the House Appropriations Committee.

While "we believe the President is right" in saying the bill cuts too deeply, Martin said, the chances are better for a restoration of funds when the bill gets to the Senate.

'Miss New York' 'Belted' By Mate

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)— A roughhouse turned into regrets today for shapely—but slightly battered—"Miss New York" and her photographer-husband. They said it all resulted from too much celebration.

The pretty redhead, Mrs. Kay Grundy, 18, showed up in court with a shiner. Her husband, Douglas, 35, who used her to illustrate a magazine picture series on the "model wife," was accused of beating her up.

"I belted her," he agreed.

A Legal-Aid attorney, representing Grundy, said the couple's Greenwich Village apartment had been the scene of a steady round of parties and liquor since Mrs. Grundy won the "Miss New York" title last Thursday.

She was chosen to represent the state in the "Miss Universe" contest opening this coming Thursday in Long Beach, Calif.

At the hearing, a charge of felonious assault was reduced to third-degree assault. Grundy was paroled for trial later.

After the hearing, the couple walked off arm-in-arm, and kissed for the benefit of news cameramen.

Officials of the "Miss Universe" contest noted that being married was not a bar to participation.

Algerian Rebels Cut Off Oran Water Supply

ALGIERS, Algeria, July 9 (AP)—The coastal city of Oran, with a population of 300,000, was cut off from fresh water today after nationalist rebels blew a breach in the aqueduct supplying the city.

Local authorities feared it would be about 10 days before the aqueduct is restored. Meanwhile, water was sharply rationed and the residents restricted to washing in the salt water of the Mediterranean.

Suit Claims Dance Studio Used Girls To Bilk Aged Man

DETROIT, July 9 (AP)—"Pretty girl dancing teachers" were used to defraud a 79-year-old man of $11,363, a federal court suit seeking to recover the money charged today.

The suit against a dancing studio (Robert Morgan, Inc.) said James F. Volkers, Freeport, Ill., was induced to sign contracts for 19 different dancing instruction lessons—"more than he could ever possibly take during his normal life expectancy."

Charles H. Volkers of Detroit filed the suit on behalf of his brother, a former Detroiter who was declared mentally incompetent by an Illinois court Jan. 19, 1955. The contracts were signed between Dec. 6, 1951, and Jan. 13, 1954.

The suit said the studio "caused young and pretty girl dancing teachers to exercise their charms and blandishments" on James. A spokesman for the studio said, "We feel no one is too old to dance; to accomplish a real degree of skill takes years of instruction."

Greek Isles Hit By Earthquakes; At Least 42 Die

ATHENS, Greece, July 9 (AP)—Earthquakes and tidal waves struck a dozen Aegean islands south of Greece today and swept across the sea to the Turkish coast.

The disaster left at least 42 persons dead and 46 injured. Food and other supplies were being dropped by air.

The earth shocks and pounding sea water smashed homes, churches, and business places. Frantic islanders fled their crumbling homes to seek refuge in the fields when the quakes first struck. The unestimated damage was expected to run high.

The Athens Observatory recorded 80 or 90 shocks of decreasing intensity after the first quake hit the island around 5 a.m.

Thira Hardest Hit

Thira, a colorful crescent-shaped island 12 miles long and 3 miles wide also known as Santorini, was the worst hit.

Thira is the southernmost of the Cyclades group and has about 10,000 residents. The government said most of the houses had collapsed and that the rest were uninhabitable.

Theodore Jaeckel, press attache at the American Embassy in Athens, flew over Thira. He said Santorini, the principal town, was 75 per cent destroyed.

The township of Phyra also was severely battered.

"The town of Oea also was damaged as much as Santorini," Jaeckel said. "Other towns were less damaged, and some seemingly not at all."

Britain Offers Aid

Other towns reported badly hit on the island included Maramarini, Thilykia, Thira, Lower Thira, and Scala.

Britain, at odds with Greece over the political future of Cyprus, ordered naval mercy missions to sail from Valletta, Malta and Izmir, Turkey, to the stricken islands. However, the mission was canceled after the Greek government said it did not want British aid yet.

Kalimnos Island near Thira was smashed by a tidal wave that destroyed or damaged buildings up to 300 yards back from the waterfront.

Nixon Warns Red Aid May Mean Rope Around Neck

ANKARA, Turkey, July 9 (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon arrived tonight for an over night stay and talks with Turkish officials on what was described as a courtesy call.

Nixon and his wife came here from Karachi, Pakistan, where he wound up his trip of Pacific and Asians nations with a warning that a government accepting Communist aid runs the risk of having a rope tied around its neck.

Turkish President Celal Bayar and Premier Adnan Menderes met Nixon and Mrs. Nixon at the airport. Later, the Americans were given a state dinner by Bayar. U. S. Ambassador Fletcher Warren and high Turkish officials were at the dinner.

Nixon's declarations about Communist aid spelling a rope around the neck was voiced in Karachi before he took off for Turkey. It was a rejoinder to Prime Minister Nehru of India and a defense of Nixon's own July 4 speech at Manila, in which he described neutralist policy toward communism as a "fearful risk."

Nehru, who strongly defends his country's neutral policy and acceptance of both Soviet and American economic aid, said in London last week that tolerance of differing views was the basis of democracy and that Nixon's speech was undemocratic.

"Nehru is entitled to his opinion," said Nixon today, "but if he reads my speech carefully he will find it the very antithesis of undemocratic thinking."

Anyone "who suggests Red assistance is not inconsistent with freedom is reading history incorrectly," Nixon added at a news conference.

Talks May Produce Clue To President's Second Term Plans

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 9 (AP)—Republican leaders of Congress will fly up from Washington tomorrow morning for their first conference with President Eisenhower since he went to the hospital June 8 for an operation.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced the meeting, which could produce some indication of Eisenhower's second term plans. Hagerty said Eisenhower would discuss the administration's legislative program with the Congress leaders.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, the Republican leader in the House, said in Washington the group would make the trip, of about 85 miles, in a military transport plane.

Five Other Legislators

Others coming are Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader; Sens. Bridges (NH) and Saltonstall (Mass) and Reps. Arends and Allen, both from Illinois.

Coming from the White House will be presidential aide Bryce Harlow, whose duties include drafting presidential speeches, and Jack Martin and Wilton D. Persons, liaison aides with Congress, along with chief presidential aide Sherman Adams.

The conference, at Gettysburg College four miles from the President's home, will mark the first time Eisenhower has used a business office, rather than a room in the hospital or his home, for official work since his abdominal operation.

Historic Meeting Place

The meeting will take place in the college's Glatfelter Hall, a brick structure which has a steeple with a clock in it.

Eisenhower will occupy the office of the college president—Gen. Willard S. Paul, who hasn't used it yet himself. Paul, a friend of Eisenhower's, does not assume the college presidency until Aug. 1.

In his previous period of convalescence here, after his 1955 heart attack, Eisenhower made his headquarters in the Gettysburg post office, about seven blocks from the college.

Socialists Gain Votes To Upset Japanese Plans

TOKYO, Tuesday, July 10 (AP)—Japanese Socialists today won enough seats in the upper house of Parliament to block government plans for rearmament and revision of the U. S. occupation-era constitution.

With near final results from Sunday's balloting pouring in, the Socialists and their supporters had taken 51 of the 127 seats up for election in the 250-seat chamber.

Together with the 33 they already hold—not to be voted on again for three more years—they had more than the one-third needed to block Premier Ichiro Hatoyama's Conservative coalition.

By late yesterday, leaders of Hatoyama's Liberal - Democratic party already were talking of defeat.

"I personally think we got licked. We'll have to accept it as sharp criticism of the Conservatives," declared Nobusuke Kishi, secretary general of Hatoyama's Liberal - Democratic party. His goal had been 200 seats in the 250-seat house.

"Even if we get two-thirds in the house, we cannot force rearmament through right away now," said Deputy Secretary General Masanosuke Ikeda.

The latest tabulation of candidates elected and leading undecided races for 127 House of Councilor seats being filled at this election indicated a possible new Conservative-Socialist split of 168 to 81, with 1 militant religious leader apparently elected. The old split was 171 to 73, with 6 vacancies.

LONDON, July 9 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden told Russia today her suggestion for an early cutback of Western forces in Germany "does not seem practicable."

In a note to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, Eden said any East-West understanding in Europe must leave West Europeans satisfied that "existing guarantees for their security" are maintained.

Eden left the door open to a further study of the proposal Bulganin had made last month in his letter to seven Western leaders, including President Eisenhower.

"Comprehensive arrangements to take into account both disarmament and urgent political questions, notably the reunification of Germany, would make real progress possible," he said. "I shall always be ready to give any help I can in this."

New Steel Talks To Be Arranged By Government

PITTSBURGH, July 9 (AP)— The federal government prepared today to draw union and management back into contract negotiations in an effort to end the nine-day-old steel strike that is spreading unemployment across the nation.

In addition to 650,000 striking steelworkers upwards of 50,000 employes in steel-related industries have been furloughed. About 30,000 coal miners in steel owned operations will be idled when vacations end at midnight.

Clyde Mills, assistant director of the federal mediation service, said a decision on the date and place for the new round of negotiations will be announced shortly. Neither the union nor the companies had any immediate comment.

Pittsburgh Talks Likely

There were some indications here that the new series of negotiations would be in Pittsburgh. Union officials have expressed opposition to moving the talks away from Pittsburgh again.

The prestrike bargaining sessions that ended in a deadlock were held in New York, described as "neutral ground."

Mills said mediation was decided on after separate meetings with both sides convinced the government it would have to take the initiative in scheduling further peace talks.

The disputing parties have not met since June 30 when the negotiations were broken off six hours before the steelworkers walked out of mills producing 90 per cent of America's steel.

30,000 Railroaders Idle

Railroads alone have laid off more than 30,000 workers. Freight hauling by rail and truck has dipped sharply without shipments of finished steel, iron ore and other raw materials.

The nation's 200,000 soft coal miners were on vacation when the steel strike started. Some 30,000 employed in captive—steel company-owned—mines already have been told they will have no work until the strike ends.

Four U.S. Jets Crash But All Pilots Safe

TOKYO, July 9 (AP)—Six U. S. Sabre Jets attempted to land at Itazuke Air Base in a thunderstorm today and only two made it without mishap. But all six pilots came through safely.

The F86 fighters, which had taken off amid scattered clouds, were circling the base to land when the storm suddenly lashed Itazuke.

The first two made the landing. But the third crashed on the runway and blocked the strip. The other three planes tried to reach alternate bases but ran out of fuel and the pilots bailed out. All were reported safe hours later.

Congress Votes 4 Billion Aid Lid

Ike Appeals For Additional Funds

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Congress put a four billion dollar ceiling on foreign aid spending today, even as President Eisenhower appealed for restoration of "a substantial part" of the money slashed from the program.

The House and Senate passed a compromise bill authorizing a foreign aid outlay 900 million dollars under what Eisenhower had proposed for the fiscal year which began July 1.

Action came on voice votes in both chambers and there was no debate. The authorization bill now goes to the White House.

Between the time the House voted and the Senate took up the measure, the President issued a statement in Gettysburg, Pa., saying "there can be no peace" in the world without a strong mutual security program, nurtured by foreign aid funds.

This appropriations legislation—the actual foreign aid money bill—provides for only $3,600,000,000, or $1,300,000,000 less than the President requested.

"It is my earnest conviction that the successive slashes that the committees of Congress have made in mutual security funds are not in the best interests of the United States of America," Eisenhower said in the statement issued from his farmhouse, where he is convalescing from an intestinal operation.

Despite the President's statement, House Republican Leader Martin (Mass) announced there would be no concerted GOP effort to increase the $3,600,000,000 figure recommended by the House Appropriations Committee.

While "we believe the President is right" in saying the bill cuts too deeply, Martin said, the chances are better for a restoration of funds when the bill gets to the Senate.

'Miss New York' 'Belted' By Mate

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)— A roughhouse turned into regrets today for shapely—but slightly battered—"Miss New York" and her photographer-husband. They said it all resulted from too much celebration.

The pretty redhead, Mrs. Kay Grundy, 18, showed up in court with a shiner. Her husband, Douglas, 35, who used her to illustrate a magazine picture series on the "model wife," was accused of beating her up.

"I belted her," he agreed.

A Legal-Aid attorney, representing Grundy, said the couple's Greenwich Village apartment had been the scene of a steady round of parties and liquor since Mrs. Grundy won the "Miss New York" title last Thursday.

She was chosen to represent the state in the "Miss Universe" contest opening this coming Thursday in Long Beach, Calif.

At the hearing, a charge of felonious assault was reduced to third-degree assault. Grundy was paroled for trial later.

After the hearing, the couple walked off arm-in-arm, and kissed for the benefit of news cameramen.

Officials of the "Miss Universe" contest noted that being married was not a bar to participation.

Algerian Rebels Cut Off Oran Water Supply

ALGIERS, Algeria, July 9 (AP)—The coastal city of Oran, with a population of 300,000, was cut off from fresh water today after nationalist rebels blew a breach in the aqueduct supplying the city.

Local authorities feared it would be about 10 days before the aqueduct is restored. Meanwhile, water was sharply rationed and the residents restricted to washing in the salt water of the Mediterranean.

Suit Claims Dance Studio Used Girls To Bilk Aged Man

DETROIT, July 9 (AP)—"Pretty girl dancing teachers" were used to defraud a 79-year-old man of $11,363, a federal court suit seeking to recover the money charged today.

The suit against a dancing studio (Robert Morgan, Inc.) said James F. Volkers, Freeport, Ill., was induced to sign contracts for 19 different dancing instruction lessons—"more than he could ever possibly take during his normal life expectancy."

Charles H. Volkers of Detroit filed the suit on behalf of his brother, a former Detroiter who was declared mentally incompetent by an Illinois court Jan. 19, 1955. The contracts were signed between Dec. 6, 1951, and Jan. 13, 1954.

The suit said the studio "caused young and pretty girl dancing teachers to exercise their charms and blandishments" on James. A spokesman for the studio said, "We feel no one is too old to dance; to accomplish a real degree of skill takes years of instruction."

Greek Isles Hit By Earthquakes; At Least 42 Die

ATHENS, Greece, July 9 (AP)—Earthquakes and tidal waves struck a dozen Aegean islands south of Greece today and swept across the sea to the Turkish coast.

The disaster left at least 42 persons dead and 46 injured. Food and other supplies were being dropped by air.

The earth shocks and pounding sea water smashed homes, churches, and business places. Frantic islanders fled their crumbling homes to seek refuge in the fields when the quakes first struck. The unestimated damage was expected to run high.

The Athens Observatory recorded 80 or 90 shocks of decreasing intensity after the first quake hit the island around 5 a.m.

Thira Hardest Hit

Thira, a colorful crescent-shaped island 12 miles long and 3 miles wide also known as Santorini, was the worst hit.

Thira is the southernmost of the Cyclades group and has about 10,000 residents. The government said most of the houses had collapsed and that the rest were uninhabitable.

Theodore Jaeckel, press attache at the American Embassy in Athens, flew over Thira. He said Santorini, the principal town, was 75 per cent destroyed.

The township of Phyra also was severely battered.

"The town of Oea also was damaged as much as Santorini," Jaeckel said. "Other towns were less damaged, and some seemingly not at all."

Britain Offers Aid

Other towns reported badly hit on the island included Maramarini, Thilykia, Thira, Lower Thira, and Scala.

Britain, at odds with Greece over the political future of Cyprus, ordered naval mercy missions to sail from Valletta, Malta and Izmir, Turkey, to the stricken islands. However, the mission was canceled after the Greek government said it did not want British aid yet.

Kalimnos Island near Thira was smashed by a tidal wave that destroyed or damaged buildings up to 300 yards back from the waterfront.

Socialists Gain Votes To Upset Japanese Plans

TOKYO, Tuesday, July 10 (AP)—Japanese Socialists today won enough seats in the upper house of Parliament to block government plans for rearmament and revision of the U. S. occupation-era constitution.

With near final results from Sunday's balloting pouring in, the Socialists and their supporters had taken 51 of the 127 seats up for election in the 250-seat chamber.

Together with the 33 they already hold—not to be voted on again for three more years—they had more than the one-third needed to block Premier Ichiro Hatoyama's Conservative coalition.

By late yesterday, leaders of Hatoyama's Liberal - Democratic party already were talking of defeat.

"I personally think we got licked. We'll have to accept it as sharp criticism of the Conservatives," declared Nobusuke Kishi, secretary general of Hatoyama's Liberal - Democratic party. His goal had been 200 seats in the 250-seat house.

"Even if we get two-thirds in the house, we cannot force rearmament through right away now," said Deputy Secretary General Masanosuke Ikeda.

The latest tabulation of candidates elected and leading undecided races for 127 House of Councilor seats being filled at this election indicated a possible new Conservative-Socialist split of 168 to 81, with 1 militant religious leader apparently elected. The old split was 171 to 73, with 6 vacancies.

U.S. Employment Reaches 66,503,000, Record High

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The government reported today that more Americans held jobs in June—66,503,000 of them—than ever before.

Only three times in the past has the national employment figure gone past 65 million—last August, when the previous record was set with 65,448,000; last October, with 65,161,000, and May of this year, with 65,238,000.

Today's report, by the Commerce and Labor departments, carried through June 16. It did not reflect the results of the steel strike which began June 30.

The departments said that while the number of jobs was going up, unemployment increased by 300,000 in June to 2,900,000. They said both gains, in employment and unemployment, were largely due to students and graduates joining the labor force.

The unemployment total has not shown much change from month to month.

The report also said that average weekly earnings in manufacturing and other industries rose $1 in June to $79.40, a record for the month. The average working week was 40.1 hours in June, up one-tenth of an hour over May and down six-tenths of an hour from June a year ago.

Over the year, weekly pay was shown to have gone up an average of $3.29, with most groups reporting some increases. The largest increase was $7.64 in ordnance, followed by $5.25 in the food industry. Weekly average gains of more than $4 were shown for primary metals, machinery, tobacco and petroleum. In the rubber industry, average weekly hours were down more than three hours and weekly earnings dropped.

Two Israelis And Arab Slain

JERUSALEM, July 9 (AP)—Three persons were reported killed today in new violence on the Israel-Jordan border.

Tension gripped the Israeli sector of Jerusalem after recurring reports that Jordan was massing troops across the border.

There was a similar wave of excitement last week in the neighboring Arab states, after Jordan claimed the Israelis were concentrating troops on the border. The Israeli government denied the charge.

An Israeli official spokesman said today that Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, chief of the U.N. Palestine truce organization, was satisfied Israeli troops were not massing in the Jerusalem area, focal point of the tension.

An Israeli army spokesman said two Israeli travelers were killed when their car was ambushed in the Arava Valley between the southern end of the Dead Sea and the Ein Hussub settlement, near the Jordan border.

In Amman, a Jordan army spokesman said a civilian was killed in an exchange of gunfire between Israeli and Jordan forces in the Jerusalem area.

Nixon Warns Red Aid May Mean Rope Around Neck

ANKARA, Turkey, July 9 (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon arrived tonight for an over night stay and talks with Turkish officials on what was described as a courtesy call.

Nixon and his wife came here from Karachi, Pakistan, where he wound up his trip of Pacific and Asians nations with a warning that a government accepting Communist aid runs the risk of having a rope tied around its neck.

Turkish President Celal Bayar and Premier Adnan Menderes met Nixon and Mrs. Nixon at the airport. Later, the Americans were given a state dinner by Bayar. U. S. Ambassador Fletcher Warren and high Turkish officials were at the dinner.

Nixon's declarations about Communist aid spelling a rope around the neck was voiced in Karachi before he took off for Turkey. It was a rejoinder to Prime Minister Nehru of India and a defense of Nixon's own July 4 speech at Manila, in which he described neutralist policy toward communism as a "fearful risk."

Nehru, who strongly defends his country's neutral policy and acceptance of both Soviet and American economic aid, said in London last week that tolerance of differing views was the basis of democracy and that Nixon's speech was undemocratic.

"Nehru is entitled to his opinion," said Nixon today, "but if he reads my speech carefully he will find it the very antithesis of undemocratic thinking."

Anyone "who suggests Red assistance is not inconsistent with freedom is reading history incorrectly," Nixon added at a news conference.

CAA Plan To Expand, Improve Air Traffic Control Is Outlined

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration said today the United States has the world's "finest air traffic control system" but needs to improve it for the jet age of flying.

Another aim is to lessen the danger of air collisions, such as killed 128 persons in the Grand Canyon crash of two airliners June 30.

Charles J. Lowen, CAA administrator, and other officials appeared before a House Government Operations subcommittee to discuss the CAA's five-year plan to expand and improve the control of air traffic.

Lowen called it the greatest federal airway project in history. He said a 40-million-dollar sum voted by Congress this year was the first instalment of the plan expected to total 246 million dollars.

"The five-year plan will put this nation in a state of readiness for the first stage of the jet age," Lowen said. He said it would provide radar coverage over the United States at high altitude and give the CAA traffic controller "radar eyes."

"We will be ready to meet the problem of the jet aircraft when it is ready for civil operations," he said.

Joseph H. Tippets, director of the CAA office of air navigation facilities, said the five-year plan would take into consideration the increasing amount of air traffic, the great speed of jets and the slow movement of helicopters.

"Present communications are too slow," Tippets said.

Lowen said he did not have the flight plans filed by the TWA and United Air Lines planes which crashed into the Grand Canyon. But, he said, "the place of the accident is approximately 130 miles from the points at which these two aircraft left the controlled airways system."

Share-Ride Plan To Reduce Smog Launched In L.A.

LOS ANGELES, July 9 (AP)—Civic and business leaders representing more than 400 plants in the Los Angeles metropolitan area today announced they are co-operating on a share-the-ride plan aimed at reducing smog.

The idea is to reduce the number of cars and thus cut the amount of smog-contributing auto exhaust. The goal is to remove "a minimum of 50,000 cars daily from our freeways and highways."

Arnold Beckman, Chamber of Commerce president, told a luncheon meeting "research indicated 40 to 60 per cent of air pollution comes from the exhaust of more than 2½ million motor vehicles in this area."

Official Denies State Tobacco Agency "Mess"

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP) — John F. McNulty, state tobacco inspector, today labeled as unjust and incorrect charges that the state tobacco warehouse is in a "disgusting mess."

If the agency was allowed to keep its books in accordance with common practices, its operation would appear in the black for the year which ended June 30, he told a Legislative Council committee.

McNulty said the agency had $40,000 in accounts receivable for storage charges which in a normal business would more than offset the $29,421 deficit it turned in.

Hyman Pressman, Baltimore attorney, called McNulty's testimony a "trapeze job" since the warehouse had accounts receivable when it began the fiscal year.

Former tobacco inspector J. George Eierman's description of the warehouse as a "disgusting mess" prompted today's hearing.

"It is disgusting that the buyers have been driven out of the warehouse and a mess when the State is called on to spend almost $30,000 to bail out an agency which, by law, is meant to be self-supporting", he told legislators.

"As long as you held the job, everything was just lovely, wasn't it?", Sen. Louis Goldstein (D-Calvert) asked him.

He said Eierman had been involved in "ward politics" and brought out that he had always been a resident of Baltimore City even though law calls for the inspector to be from a tobacco county.

Eierman said he took the job at the request of Gov. McKeldin to "clean up a mess" after Southern Maryland residents had declined appointment to it.

Weeks Supports Baltimore-D.C. Air Traffic Plan

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks today asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to designate Friendship International Airport near Baltimore as an alternate to the Washington National Airport in the immediate future.

Weeks said that Friendship Airport could serve to handle excess air traffic to Washington until facilities of a proposed new airport for the nation's capital at nearby Burke, Va., are ready for use.

In a letter to CAB Chairman James Durfee, Weeks said that it probably will be "several years" before facilities at Burke would be ready even if Congress should provide requested funds and construction should begin immediately.

The secretary noted that President Eisenhower had asked Congress today for a supplemental appropriation of $34,700,000 to commence construction of a second civil airport in the Washington metropolitan area near Burke.

He said the Civil Aeronautics Administration will present details of Eisenhower's request to the lawmakers.

Meanwhile, the President's request for $34,700,000 to begin work on the Burke airport brought a quick protest today from Sen. Beall (R-Md).

Beall said in a statement he could not possibly disagree with the President any more than over this request.

"The kindest thing I can say about the proposal is that Mr. Eisenhower apparently acted on terribly inadequate and misleading information and advice.

"Because of my confidence in the President's personal integrity and ability, I am immediately sending information to him personally which, I believe, will show him conclusively that construction of an airport at Burke, Va.: (1) would cause a dangerous delay in the obtaining of safety factors which are needed in the Washington-Baltimore area now, (2) would be a complete waste of funds, and (3) would be inexcusably unfair to the people of Virginia who have rightfully objected to having the airfield placed in their midst while other plans would serve the reported purpose much more logically."

Young Man Convicted In Fatal Car Crash

HYATTSVILLE, Md., July 9 (AP) —John E. Waters, 21-year-old Deale resident, was convicted today of manslaughter, drunken and reckless driving and speeding. He was sentenced to a year's imprisonment and was fined $300 and costs.

Traffic Court Judge Grover D. Small released Waters on $1,150 bond when his attorney noted an appeal.

The charges against Waters stemmed from a fatal accident April 29, when a car crashed into a concrete utility pole on East-West Highway. The crash caused the death of a passenger in the car, Arthur J. Caputo, 16, Takoma Park.

Modernistic Subway Train Makes Trial Run

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—A modernistic, new subway train—complete with air conditioning, deodorizers, dust removers, germ filters and soothing recorded music—made its trial run today.

"Nice," said motorman Elmer Chandler, 44.

Only transit officials and newsmen were allowed aboard on the demonstration run.

The new six-car train will go into regular service tomorrow night. It was purchased on an experimental basis, prior to advertisting soon for bids on 450 new cars.

PLANE SEAT WHERE WOMAN DIED—A woman passenger, identified as Mrs. Robert Lippert, Rochester, Minn., was sitting in this seat on a Trans-Canada airliner yesterday when a huge propeller broke loose and knifed into the fuselage. She was killed and her young son injured. Four other passengers also were hurt. The new English-built turbo-prop airliner made an emergency landing at Windsor. (AP Photofax)

Mass Funeral, Burial Held For 67 Air Crash Victims

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., July 9 (AP)—Mass funeral and burial services were conducted north of this quiet Arizona city today for 67 for the 128 victims of commercial aviation's worst diaster.

Protestant, Catholic, Morman and Jewish clergymen officiated at the hour-long ceremony on a gentle, breezy slope that rises toward the magnificent San Francisco peaks.

Some 1,500 persons, including about 250 relatives and friends of the crash victims, looked on.

The 67 caskets interred in a small plot in the pine-filled Flagstaff Cemetery represented all but three of the passengers and crew members aboard a Trans World Airlines Super Constellation that smashed into a Grand Canyon butte June 30. The Constellation is belived to have crashed after colliding in flight with a United Air Lines DC7 which also slammed into the Canyon with 58 aboard.

It was not known how many persons the remains recovered from the TWA wreckage represented. Remains of only nine of the 70 aboard have been identified.

A few of the mourners sobbed quietly during the services, but most just stared blankly and solemnly at the three rows of caskets lining the 70-foot-long burial plot.

The bodies of three TWA crash victims were sent to their homes for burial.

Separate services are being arranged for the 58 who died in the crash of the other airliner.

Disintegrating Plane Prop Kills Woman

WINDSOR, Ont., July 9 (AP)—One woman was killed and five persons injured by parts of a disintegrating propeller which sheared into the cabin of a Trans-Canada plane today.

The plane made an emergency landing here.

Headquarters of the airlines at Montreal identified the woman as Mrs. Robert Lippert, wife of Dr. Robert Lippert of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. Her son Robbie, 3, is in a hospital suffering from shock. An infant child escaped unhurt, a Trans-Canada official statement said.

The plane was en route from Chicago to Toronto with 30 passengers when the No. 4 engine propeller disintegrated in flight over Flat Rock, Mich., 35 miles southwest of Detroit, the airlines company said. An "immediate emergency descent" on Windsor Airport was made by the plane pilots, Capt. A. C. Adamson and Capt. R. D. Smuck, the statement said.

Capital Group Helps Tydings

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP) — Millard E. Tydings has received a $500 contribution from a Washington group with a promise of more aid to come for his 1956 rematch against Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md.

The contribution came from the National Committee for an Effective Congress, an organization describing itself as composed of liberals who believe in free-enterprise capitalism.

Maurice Rosenblatt, chairman of the group's advisory board, announced the contribution and said today the committee plans to give Tydings further aid.

Negro Attorneys Ask Time Limit For Integration

RICHMOND, Va., July 9 (AP) — Negro attorneys pressed a federal court here today for a definite time limit—"no later than September 1957"—for completion of desegregation in public schools of Prince Edward County, Va.

They asked for a "reasonable start" toward desegregation by this fall.

They said in effect that no effectual move had been made by the county to comply with the Supreme Court's May 30, 1954, decision ordering the county to desegregate "with all deliberate speed."

But arguments never got around to the merits of the time limit today. The three-judge court recessed—probably for a couple of weeks—to consider whether one judge may now take over the case.

Federal law requires three judges where a question of the constitutionality of state law is concerned. Thus three judges tried the Prince Edward Case originally since it involved the constitutionality of Virginia's segregation law.

But it is argued now that the Supreme Court has already nullified the Virginia law and all that remains in the case is a question of the enforcement of civil rights.

Chief Judge John J. Parker of the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals announced that if the decision is for a three-judge court, the case will be called up again before Sept. 1.

But if it is to be a single-judge court, Richmond Dist. Judge Sterling Hutcheson will sit and he will announce when the case is to be called up again.

Stassen Says He Or Warren Could Defeat Stevenson

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP) — Harold E. Stassen said tonight that if President Eisenhower doesn't run for re-election "either the Hon. Earl Warren or I could lead the Republican party to victory over Adlai Stevenson."

Stassen is Eisenhower's aide on disarmament.

Warren is chief justice of the United States. He was governor of California when Eisenhower appointed him to his post on the Supreme Court bench.

Stassen, discussing the situation in a recorded radio interview (CBS' Capitol Clockroom) said he was "confident that if his health permits President Eisenhower will stand for a second term." Then he added:

"If the President does find at any time that he is unable to run, I do not believe that either Earl Warren or I would sit by and see the Republican party move toward defeat."

Official Denies State Tobacco Agency "Mess"

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP) — John F. McNulty, state tobacco inspector, today labeled as unjust and incorrect charges that the state tobacco warehouse is in a "disgusting mess."

If the agency was allowed to keep its books in accordance with common practices, its operation would appear in the black for the year which ended June 30, he told a Legislative Council committee.

McNulty said the agency had $40,000 in accounts receivable for storage charges which in a normal business would more than offset the $29,421 deficit it turned in.

Hyman Pressman, Baltimore attorney, called McNulty's testimony a "trapeze job" since the warehouse had accounts receivable when it began the fiscal year.

Former tobacco inspector J. George Eierman's description of the warehouse as a "disgusting mess" prompted today's hearing.

"It is disgusting that the buyers have been driven out of the warehouse and a mess when the State is called on to spend almost $30,000 to bail out an agency which, by law, is meant to be self-supporting", he told legislators.

"As long as you held the job, everything was just lovely, wasn't it?", Sen. Louis Goldstein (D-Calvert) asked him.

He said Eierman had been involved in "ward politics" and brought out that he had always been a resident of Baltimore City even though law calls for the inspector to be from a tobacco county.

Eierman said he took the job at the request of Gov. McKeldin to "clean up a mess" after Southern Maryland residents had declined appointment to it.

Weeks Supports Baltimore-D.C. Air Traffic Plan

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks today asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to designate Friendship International Airport near Baltimore as an alternate to the Washington National Airport in the immediate future.

Weeks said that Friendship Airport could serve to handle excess air traffic to Washington until facilities of a proposed new airport for the nation's capital at nearby Burke, Va., are ready for use.

In a letter to CAB Chairman James Durfee, Weeks said that it probably will be "several years" before facilities at Burke would be ready even if Congress should provide requested funds and construction should begin immediately.

The secretary noted that President Eisenhower had asked Congress today for a supplemental appropriation of $34,700,000 to commence construction of a second civil airport in the Washington metropolitan area near Burke.

He said the Civil Aeronautics Administration will present details of Eisenhower's request to the lawmakers.

Meanwhile, the President's request for $34,700,000 to begin work on the Burke airport brought a quick protest today from Sen. Beall (R-Md).

Beall said in a statement he could not possibly disagree with the President any more than over this request.

"The kindest thing I can say about the proposal is that Mr. Eisenhower apparently acted on terribly inadequate and misleading information and advice.

"Because of my confidence in the President's personal integrity and ability, I am immediately sending information to him personally which, I believe, will show him conclusively that construction of an airport at Burke, Va.: (1) would cause a dangerous delay in the obtaining of safety factors which are needed in the Washington-Baltimore area now, (2) would be a complete waste of funds, and (3) would be inexcusably unfair to the people of Virginia who have rightfully objected to having the airfield placed in their midst while other plans would serve the reported purpose much more logically."

Young Man Convicted In Fatal Car Crash

HYATTSVILLE, Md., July 9 (AP) —John E. Waters, 21-year-old Deale resident, was convicted today of manslaughter, drunken and reckless driving and speeding. He was sentenced to a year's imprisonment and was fined $300 and costs.

Traffic Court Judge Grover D. Small released Waters on $1,150 bond when his attorney noted an appeal.

The charges against Waters stemmed from a fatal accident April 29, when a car crashed into a concrete utility pole on East-West Highway. The crash caused the death of a passenger in the car, Arthur J. Caputo, 16, Takoma Park.

Modernistic Subway Train Makes Trial Run

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—A modernistic, new subway train—complete with air conditioning, deodorizers, dust removers, germ filters and soothing recorded music—made its trial run today.

"Nice," said motorman Elmer Chandler, 44.

Only transit officials and newsmen were allowed aboard on the demonstration run.

The new six-car train will go into regular service tomorrow night. It was purchased on an experimental basis, prior to advertisting soon for bids on 450 new cars.

PLANE SEAT WHERE WOMAN DIED—A woman passenger, identified as Mrs. Robert Lippert, Rochester, Minn., was sitting in this seat on a Trans-Canada airliner yesterday when a huge propeller broke loose and knifed into the fuselage. She was killed and her young son injured. Four other passengers also were hurt. The new English-built turbo-prop airliner made an emergency landing at Windsor. (AP Photofax)

Mass Funeral, Burial Held For 67 Air Crash Victims

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., July 9 (AP)—Mass funeral and burial services were conducted north of this quiet Arizona city today for 67 for the 128 victims of commercial aviation's worst diaster.

Protestant, Catholic, Morman and Jewish clergymen officiated at the hour-long ceremony on a gentle, breezy slope that rises toward the magnificent San Francisco peaks.

Some 1,500 persons, including about 250 relatives and friends of the crash victims, looked on.

The 67 caskets interred in a small plot in the pine-filled Flagstaff Cemetery represented all but three of the passengers and crew members aboard a Trans World Airlines Super Constellation that smashed into a Grand Canyon butte June 30. The Constellation is belived to have crashed after colliding in flight with a United Air Lines DC7 which also slammed into the Canyon with 58 aboard.

It was not known how many persons the remains recovered from the TWA wreckage represented. Remains of only nine of the 70 aboard have been identified.

A few of the mourners sobbed quietly during the services, but most just stared blankly and solemnly at the three rows of caskets lining the 70-foot-long burial plot.

The bodies of three TWA crash victims were sent to their homes for burial.

Separate services are being arranged for the 58 who died in the crash of the other airliner.

Disintegrating Plane Prop Kills Woman

WINDSOR, Ont., July 9 (AP)—One woman was killed and five persons injured by parts of a disintegrating propeller which sheared into the cabin of a Trans-Canada plane today.

The plane made an emergency landing here.

Headquarters of the airlines at Montreal identified the woman as Mrs. Robert Lippert, wife of Dr. Robert Lippert of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. Her son Robbie, 3, is in a hospital suffering from shock. An infant child escaped unhurt, a Trans-Canada official statement said.

The plane was en route from Chicago to Toronto with 30 passengers when the No. 4 engine propeller disintegrated in flight over Flat Rock, Mich., 35 miles southwest of Detroit, the airlines company said. An "immediate emergency descent" on Windsor Airport was made by the plane pilots, Capt. A. C. Adamson and Capt. R. D. Smuck, the statement said.

Capital Group Helps Tydings

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP) — Millard E. Tydings has received a $500 contribution from a Washington group with a promise of more aid to come for his 1956 rematch against Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md.

The contribution came from the National Committee for an Effective Congress, an organization describing itself as composed of liberals who believe in free-enterprise capitalism.

Maurice Rosenblatt, chairman of the group's advisory board, announced the contribution and said today the committee plans to give Tydings further aid.

Negro Attorneys Ask Time Limit For Integration

RICHMOND, Va., July 9 (AP) — Negro attorneys pressed a federal court here today for a definite time limit—"no later than September 1957"—for completion of desegregation in public schools of Prince Edward County, Va.

They asked for a "reasonable start" toward desegregation by this fall.

They said in effect that no effectual move had been made by the county to comply with the Supreme Court's May 30, 1954, decision ordering the county to desegregate "with all deliberate speed."

But arguments never got around to the merits of the time limit today. The three-judge court recessed—probably for a couple of weeks—to consider whether one judge may now take over the case.

Federal law requires three judges where a question of the constitutionality of state law is concerned. Thus three judges tried the Prince Edward Case originally since it involved the constitutionality of Virginia's segregation law.

But it is argued now that the Supreme Court has already nullified the Virginia law and all that remains in the case is a question of the enforcement of civil rights.

Chief Judge John J. Parker of the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals announced that if the decision is for a three-judge court, the case will be called up again before Sept. 1.

But if it is to be a single-judge court, Richmond Dist. Judge Sterling Hutcheson will sit and he will announce when the case is to be called up again.

Stassen Says He Or Warren Could Defeat Stevenson

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP) — Harold E. Stassen said tonight that if President Eisenhower doesn't run for re-election "either the Hon. Earl Warren or I could lead the Republican party to victory over Adlai Stevenson."

Stassen is Eisenhower's aide on disarmament.

Warren is chief justice of the United States. He was governor of California when Eisenhower appointed him to his post on the Supreme Court bench.

Stassen, discussing the situation in a recorded radio interview (CBS' Capitol Clockroom) said he was "confident that if his health permits President Eisenhower will stand for a second term." Then he added:

"If the President does find at any time that he is unable to run, I do not believe that either Earl Warren or I would sit by and see the Republican party move toward defeat."

Fatal Mishap Driver Fined, Gets Sentence

Harold Lytle, of McKeesport and Uniontown, Pa., who was driving the car which crashed into a machine of a Cresaptown couple last July 28, killing both of them and injuring several of their children, yesterday was fined $1,000 and sentenced to 18 months in the Fayette county (Pa.) jail at Uniontown.

Judge Eustace H. Bane sentenced Lytle yesterday in Fayette County Circuit Court.

Fatally injured in the accident were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moreland. Injured were their three children, Cecila Ann, 13; Nancy Lou, 9, and Allan Wayne Moreland, 7.

The children are now at Mooseheart, the Child City of the Loyal Order of Moose. They resided with relatives in Cumberland before being admitted to the institution.

The jury which found Lytle guilty of involuntary manslaughter recommended leniency.

Lytle claimed that he was ill previous to the accident and that he did not recall the incident leading to the double death on Summit Mountain on U.S. Route 40 last July.

He told the jury that on the way home from McKeesport he was nauseated. The condition existed as he drove up the mountain. He believed that drinking too much water as he suffered from the heat produced the condition. "I don't know what happened," Lytle said. "I could have blacked out." He admitted that he did not have a driver's license. The defendant denied that he told Trooper William P. Gyurke in the hospital following the accident that "all I can say is that I may have dozed off."

Curb, Gutter On Warwick Avenue Will Cost $4.24

The Mayor and Council accepted a report on the cost of guttering, curbing and otherwise improving Warwick Avenue yesterday and ordered it filed in land records of Allegany County.

The report by City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum covers curbs and gutters for the avenue from its intersection with Memorial Avenue to the intersection with Greenway Avenue. Total cost is listed at $6,140.50 or $4.24 a lineal foot. Of the total cost, property owners will pay $5,826.10 and the city $314.40.

An ordinance for paving Warwick and Greenway Avenues with a five-inch base and three inches of blacktop will be introduced Monday.

Council also agreed to inspect an alley connecting Washington and Greene Streets which runs parallel with South Allegany Street. A request from Mrs. Elinor Reinhart and S. T. Maphis asks that the northerly 100 feet of the unnamed alley be closed.

Closing Unwise, Says Nuzum

In a report, Nuzum said the closing would be unwise since owners of cars and residents along a lower connecting alley would be denied one means of access. Street Commissioner William H. Buckholtz said there are better access routes. City Attorney Thomas B. Finan suggested council look at the alley and keep in mind the possibility of a drainage easement if it decided to go through with the closure.

Council authorized payment of $13,816 to the Treasurer of the U.S. as the city's share of acquisition and administrative costs incident to condemnation proceedings involving property of Virgil Ruppenthal on the north bank of Wills Creek. A previous order for the payment of $11,420 to Ruppenthal was rescinded since the city and property owner could not agree on price. Finan said the matter has been settled.

Mayor Roy W. Eves was authorized to execute a quit claim deed to the Queen City Brewing Company for Creek Lane (or street) in accordance with an ordinance calling for closing of the area.

Respect Resolutions Passed

A report by three local realtors appointed as commissioners in connection with the closing of Summitt Avenue from Byrd Avenue to a point 218 feet east, said no damage to property owners will result.

Resolutions of respect were read to the memory of George L. Kirby and John R. Treiber who died recently and copies ordered sent to their families.

Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 79,480,000 gallons compared to 87,160,000 the same period a year ago. The water levels at Lakes Koon and Gordon are one inch above the crest of the spillway.

Payments approved included $31,737.60 to Moyer Bros. for work on sewage treatment plant; $100 to the clerk of the Circuit Court of Mineral County for a corrected total transaction in connection with flood control; and $175 to the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce for a membership.

Checker and Kalah playoffs are scheduled from 2 to 4:30 p. m. Thursday and Friday, while a live pet show is planned for Thursday at 7:30 p. m. A film will follow.

The playground will hold a dance Friday from 8 to 11 p. m. during which refreshments will be available.

Winners in a costume show last week at the playlot were Robert Huff, Sandra Twigg and Randy Whitman, tied for most unusual; Lisa Stephen, prettiest; Roxanne Stephen, cutest, and John Heavener, funniest. Ribbons were presented the winners, and favors were distributed to all entries.

Local Speeders Forfeit Bonds

Nineteen motorists forfeited a total of $168.34 yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court for exceeding the speed limit on Frederick Street.

The motorists, apprehended last week by Detective Joseph Stitcher of the City Police Department, were charged with exceeding 25 miles per hour on the street.

The cases were presented before Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

Local Men Attend Travelers Meeting

Woman Injured In Auto Mishap

A 76-year-old Henderson, Md., woman was hospitalized Sunday following a two-vehicle accident on the top of Town Hill mountain, eight miles east of Flintstone on Route 40.

Hospital attaches yesterday said Mrs. Mary Sego sustained a fracture of the left elbow and a possible fracture of the left hip in the collision. Her condition is listed as "good."

Trooper James Lewis of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said the Caroline county woman was injured when a truck, driven by Charles Leo Harris, 23, of 12 Marion Street, collided with a car, driven by Kenneth A. Fish, 31, of Richmond, Ind.

Trooper Lewis said Fish, traveling west on Route 40, attempted to make a left turn and ran and ran into the path of the Harris vehicle. Mrs. Sego was the only person injured in the crash.

Hospital attaches said Mrs. Sego was traveling with her nephew, Fish, and was enroute to his home in Indiana for a visit.

Area Men Jailed In Bike Thefts

Magistrate Morris Baron yesterday sentenced three young men to the Allegany County Jail and two younger boys to the Maryland Training School for Boys for stealing bicycles.

The boys, all residents of the Mt. Savage area, signed statements admitting the theft of three bikes in Frostburg last May and were sentenced yesterday in Juvenile Court.

They were apprehended Friday night by Frostburg City Police and lodged in the county jail until yesterday morning.

Magistrate Baron sentenced Marvin Bridges, 22; Donald Bridges, 26, and Donald Klosterman, 30, to 30 days in the county jail, and then sentenced the younger boys to the Maryland Training school, but suspended the sentence on two conditions.

The conditions state that one boy, 16, return to school in September, and that the other boy, 17, enter the service before September.

The two youngest boys were charged with being delinquent minors, while the three older youths were charged with contributing to the delinquency of the younger ones.

The youths all entered pleas of guilty to the charges. The total value of the three bikes was set at approximately $100.

How would you pay for a long-term illness in your family?

Chances are you have a good hospital policy...but will it pay the big bills if a major illness hits your family?

Americans by the millions are now covered by some type of health insurance. You're probably one of them...and the protection you have is no doubt worth every penny you pay for it. It's a fact, though, that most of us—and that probably includes you—would find it hard to pay for the high costs of a long-term, serious illness...even with your hospitalization.

MOST HEALTH PLANS ARE SHORT-TERM...

...they'll pay for a limited stay in the hospital, or for routine surgery. But what if someone in your family is stricken by a major, long-term illness such as heart disease, cancer, leukemia...or mental illness? Or what if a really serious accident occurs, involving expensive surgery and costly therapeutic care? That's why a new kind of health insurance policy was developed in recent years, known as...

MAJOR MEDICAL INSURANCE

This completely new type of coverage can protect you and your family against catastrophic, long-term illness...the kind that could put the average family in debt for years.

Major Medical works on the same principle as your auto collision insurance. That is, you select a deductible sum, above which you want your protection to start. Then, when your medical and hospital expenses rise above this sum, your benefits begin, paying for a large percentage of your remaining bill—while your regular hospital policy would probably pay a large part or all of the deductible sum.

While there are literally hundreds of health insurance companies, Major Medical is available at the present time through only a handful. It is likely that most Americans will eventually own this unusual type of coverage. If you are one of the many families—or individuals—who are interested in Major Medical now, it would be worth your while to look into...

A NATIONWIDE MAJOR MEDICAL PLAN

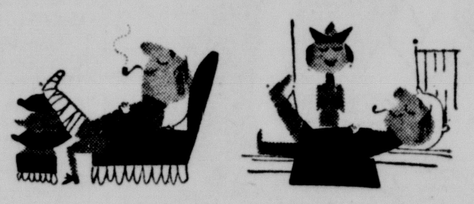

Of the handful of such plans now available, Nationwide's is quite exceptional. For example, it is a flexible plan, offering you a choice of deductible amounts—$250, $500 or $1,000—with premiums that vary accordingly.

When accident or illness expenses rise above your deductible amount, Nationwide will pay 80% of the balance—up to $5,000 per year, per accident or per illness. (If you have a Family Major Medical policy it is $5,000 for each insured family member per year, per accident or per illness.) Here are some specific examples for each individual:

TOTAL INCURRED EXPENSES	YOU PAY DEDUCTIBLE AMOUNT*	YOU PAY 20% OF BALANCE*	NATIONWIDE PAYS 80% OF BALANCE
$7,250	$1,000	$1,250	$5,000
6,000	500	1,110	4,400
5,000	250	950	3,800

*In many cases your regular hospital plan would cover this deductible amount plus this 20% balance you are asked to pay.

PROTECTION IN DEPTH

Nationwide's plan works for you whether you are in a hospital or in your home...and Nationwide is one of the very few companies that offers you protection against all illnesses, including mental illness (while attended by a licensed physician).

There is no limit to the number of accidents or illnesses during one year. If you have more than one, benefits are payable on each—with the limit, of course, of a total amount to you of $5,000 during the year. And your policy provides full benefits up to age 65, with reduced benefits after 65 (instead of 80% we pay 40%).

Besides the fees of licensed physicians and surgeons, all the regular hospital expenses are covered, including the cost of care by a private, registered nurse...rental of special mechanical equipment...blood plasma...oxygen...physiotherapy treatment...artificial limbs or eyes...iron lung...and all prescribed drugs and medicines.

ANY LIMITATIONS, EXCLUSIONS?

As in all health insurance policies, there are some. The policy only covers accidents which occur or illnesses which begin while the policy is in force; sickness benefits are subject to a 30-day waiting period after the policy is issued; and benefits are payable for not more than two years for any one accident or illness; there is a limit of $15 a day for hospital daily room and board charges; and the policy is renewable at the option of the Company, but it is not cancellable during the term of the policy for which premiums are paid.

Both the Individual (AH-233-A) and the Family (AH-234-A) Major Medical Expense policies have 11 exclusions which are all very reasonable in view of the policy's broad scope and the liberal benefits provided. For instance, the policy doesn't pay when law-provided benefits are payable; nor for: Accidents or illnesses occurring more than 90 days after you've left the United States or Canada; regular dental expenses; eye examinations; pregnancy before the policy has been in force for nine months; "rest cures"; self-inflicted injuries; losses caused by war; cosmetic surgery; or travel expenses.

For all the facts on Nationwide's Major Medical policy, contact our office nearest you, listed below, or see the Nationwide representative in your community.

"IN SERVICE WITH PEOPLE"

That's the slogan of Nationwide Insurance. It means we believe that: People can achieve anything they want to by working together with others...people's money should be invested in activities which serve them better ...and people should have an active voice in the affairs of any companies they own.

That's why we assist voluntary self-help groups; invest in businesses which directly help policyholders and the public; and give our policyholders a chance to speak up through their ADVISORY COMMITTEES OF POLICYHOLDERS.

At these Committee meetings our policyholders tell us what their needs are and suggest ways of filling them. In this way many beneficial products and services have resulted.

If you'd like to know more about Nationwide's POLICYHOLDER ADVISORY COMMITTEES, or if you'd like to attend one of the meetings—whether or not you're now a policyholder—a free pamphlet is yours for the asking. Just drop a card to:

Fatal Mishap Driver Fined, Gets Sentence

Harold Lytle, of McKeesport and Uniontown, Pa., who was driving the car which crashed into a machine of a Cresaptown couple last July 28, killing both of them and injuring several of their children, yesterday was fined $1,000 and sentenced to 18 months in the Fayette county (Pa.) jail at Uniontown.

Judge Eustace H. Bane sentenced Lytle yesterday in Fayette County Circuit Court.

Fatally injured in the accident were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moreland. Injured were their three children, Cecila Ann, 13; Nancy Lou, 9, and Allan Wayne Moreland, 7.

The children are now at Mooseheart, the Child City of the Loyal Order of Moose. They resided with relatives in Cumberland before being admitted to the institution.

The jury which found Lytle guilty of involuntary manslaughter recommended leniency.

Lytle claimed that he was ill previous to the accident and that he did not recall the incident leading to the double death on Summit Mountain on U.S. Route 40 last July.

He told the jury that on the way home from McKeesport he was nauseated. The condition existed as he drove up the mountain. He believed that drinking too much water as he suffered from the heat produced the condition. "I don't know what happened," Lytle said. "I could have blacked out." He admitted that he did not have a driver's license. The defendant denied that he told Trooper William P. Gyurke in the hospital following the accident that "all I can say is that I may have dozed off."

Curb, Gutter On Warwick Avenue Will Cost $4.24

The Mayor and Council accepted a report on the cost of guttering, curbing and otherwise improving Warwick Avenue yesterday and ordered it filed in land records of Allegany County.

The report by City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum covers curbs and gutters for the avenue from its intersection with Memorial Avenue to the intersection with Greenway Avenue. Total cost is listed at $6,140.56 or $4.24 a lineal foot. Of the total cost, property owners will pay $5,826.10 and the city $314.40.

An ordinance for paving Warwick and Greenway Avenues with a five-inch base and three inches of blacktop will be introduced Monday.

Council also agreed to inspect an alley connecting Washington and Greene Streets which runs parallel with South Allegany Street. A request from Mrs. Elinor Reinhart and S. T. Maphis asks that the northerly 100 feet of the unnamed alley be closed.

Closing Unwise, Says Nuzum

In a report, Nuzum said the closing would be unwise since owners of cars and residents along a lower connecting alley would be denied one means of access. Street Commissioner William H. Buckholtz said there are better access routes. City Attorney Thomas B. Finan suggested council look at the alley and keep in mind the possibility of a drainage easement if it decided to go through with the closure.

Council authorized payment of $13,816 to the Treasurer of the U.S. as the city's share of acquisition and administrative costs incident to condemnation proceedings involving property of Virgil Ruppenthal on the north bank of Wills Creek. A previous order for the payment of $11,420 to Ruppenthal was rescinded since the city and property owner could not agree on price. Finan said the matter has been settled.

Mayor Roy W. Eves was authorized to execute a quit claim deed to the Queen City Brewing Company for Creek Lane (or street) in accordance with an ordinance calling for closing of the area.

Respect Resolutions Passed

A report by three local realtors appointed as commissioners in connection with the closing of Summitt Avenue from Byrd Avenue to a point 218 feet east, said no damage to property owners will result.

Resolutions of respect were read to the memory of George L. Kirby and John R. Treiber who died recently and copies ordered sent to their families.

Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 79,480,000 gallons compared to 87,160,000 the same period a year ago. The water levels at Lakes Koon and Gordon are one inch above the crest of the spillway.

Payments approved included $31,737.60 to Moyer Bros. for work on sewage treatment plant; $100 to the clerk of the Circuit Court of Mineral County for a corrected total transaction in connection with flood control; and $175 to the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce for a membership.

Woman Injured In Auto Mishap

A 76-year-old Henderson, Md., woman was hospitalized Sunday following a two-vehicle accident on the top of Town Hill mountain, eight miles east of Flintstone on Route 40.

Hospital attaches yesterday said Mrs. Mary Sego sustained a fracture of the left elbow and a possible fracture of the left hip in the collision. Her condition is listed as "good."

Trooper James Lewis of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said the Caroline county woman was injured when a truck, driven by Charles Leo Harris, 23, of 12 Marion Street, collided with a car, driven by Kenneth A. Fish, 31, of Richmond, Ind.

Trooper Lewis said Fish, traveling west on Route 40, attempted to make a left turn and ran and ran into the path of the Harris vehicle. Mrs. Sego was the only person injured in the crash.

Hospital attaches said Mrs. Sego was traveling with her nephew, Fish, and was enroute to his home in Indiana for a visit.

Area Men Jailed In Bike Thefts

Magistrate Morris Baron yesterday sentenced three young men to the Allegany County Jail and two younger boys to the Maryland Training School for Boys for stealing bicycles.

The boys, all residents of the Mt. Savage area, signed statements admitting the theft of three bikes in Frostburg last May and were sentenced yesterday in Juvenile Court.

They were apprehended Friday night by Frostburg City Police and lodged in the county jail until yesterday morning.

Magistrate Baron sentenced Marvin Bridges, 22; Donald Bridges, 26, and Donald Klosterman, 30, to 30 days in the county jail, and then sentenced the younger boys to the Maryland Training school, but suspended the sentence on two conditions.

The conditions state that one boy, 16, return to school in September, and that the other boy, 17, enter the service before September.

The two youngest boys were charged with being delinquent minors, while the three older youths were charged with contributing to the delinquency of the younger ones.

The youths all entered pleas of guilty to the charges. The total value of the three bikes was set at approximately $100.

The U.S. government gets about 54 million dollars in royalties a year from about 500 million dollars worth of minerals mined on federal land.

How would you pay for a long-term illness in your family?

Chances are you have a good hospital policy...but will it pay the big bills if a major illness hits your family?

Americans by the millions are now covered by some type of health insurance. You're probably one of them...and the protection you have is no doubt worth every penny you pay for it. It's a fact, though, that most of us—and that probably includes you—would find it hard to pay for the high costs of a long-term, serious illness...even with your hospitalization.

MOST HEALTH PLANS ARE SHORT-TERM...

...they'll pay for a limited stay in the hospital, or for routine surgery. But what if someone in your family is stricken by a major, long-term illness such as heart disease, cancer, leukemia...or mental illness? Or what if a really serious accident occurs, involving expensive surgery and costly therapeutic care? That's why a new kind of health insurance policy was developed in recent years, known as...

MAJOR MEDICAL INSURANCE

This completely new type of coverage can protect you and your family against catastrophic, long-term illness...the kind that could put the average family in debt for years.

Major Medical works on the same principle as your auto collision insurance. That is, you select a deductible sum, above which you want your protection to start. Then, when your medical and hospital expenses rise above this sum, your benefits begin, paying for a large percentage of your remaining bill—while your regular hospital policy would probably pay a large part or all of the deductible sum.

While there are literally hundreds of health insurance companies, Major Medical is available at the present time through only a handful. It is likely that most Americans will eventually own this unusual type of coverage. If you are one of the many families—or individuals—who are interested in Major Medical now, it would be worth your while to look into...

A NATIONWIDE MAJOR MEDICAL PLAN

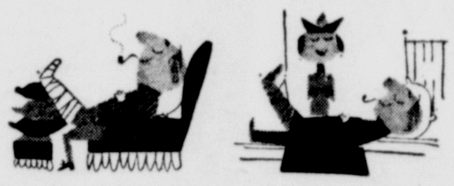

Of the handful of such plans now available, Nationwide's is quite exceptional. For example, it is a flexible plan, offering you a choice of deductible amounts—$250, $500 or $1,000—with premiums that vary accordingly.

When accident or illness expenses rise above your deductible amount, Nationwide will pay 80% of the balance—up to $5,000 per year, per accident or per illness. (If you have a Family Major Medical policy it is $5,000 for each insured family member per year, per accident or per illness.) Here are some specific examples for each individual:

TOTAL INCURRED EXPENSES	YOU PAY DEDUCTIBLE AMOUNT*	YOU PAY 20% OF BALANCE*	NATIONWIDE PAYS 80% OF BALANCE
$7,250	$1,000	$1,250	$5,000
6,000	500	1,100	4,400
5,000	250	950	3,800

*In many cases your regular hospital plan would cover this deductible amount plus this 20% balance you are asked to pay.

PROTECTION IN DEPTH

Nationwide's plan works for you whether you are in a hospital or in your home...and Nationwide is one of the very few companies that offers you protection against all illnesses, including mental illness (while attended by a licensed physician).

There is no limit to the number of accidents or illnesses during one year. If you have more than one, benefits are payable on each—with the limit, of course, of a total amount to you of $5,000 during the year. And your policy provides full benefits up to age 65, with reduced benefits after 65 (instead of 80% we pay 40%).

Besides the fees of licensed physicians and surgeons, all the regular hospital expenses are covered, including the cost of care by a private, registered nurse...rental of special mechanical equipment...blood plasma...oxygen...physiotherapy treatment...artificial limbs or eyes...iron lung...and all prescribed drugs and medicines.

ANY LIMITATIONS, EXCLUSIONS?

As in all health insurance policies, there are some. The policy only covers accidents which occur or illnesses which begin while the policy is in force; sickness benefits are subject to a 30-day waiting period after the policy is issued; and benefits are payable for not more than two years for any one accident or illness; there is a limit of $15 a day for hospital daily room and board charges; and the policy is renewable at the option of the Company, but it is not cancellable during the term of the policy for which premiums are paid.

Both the Individual (AH-233-A) and the Family (AH-234-A) Major Medical Expense policies have 11 exclusions which are all very reasonable in view of the policy's broad scope and the liberal benefits provided. For instance, the policy doesn't pay when law-provided benefits are payable; nor for: Accidents or illnesses occurring more than 90 days after you've left the United States or Canada; regular dental expenses; eye examinations; pregnancy before the policy has been in force for nine months; "rest cures"; self-inflicted injuries; losses caused by war; cosmetic surgery; or travel expenses.

For all the facts on Nationwide's Major Medical policy, contact our office nearest you, listed below, or see the Nationwide representative in your community.

"IN SERVICE WITH PEOPLE"

That's the slogan of Nationwide Insurance. It means we believe that: People can achieve anything they want to by working together with others...people's money should be invested in activities which serve them better ...and people should have an active voice in the affairs of any companies they own.

That's why we assist voluntary self-help groups; invest in businesses which directly help policyholders and the public; and give our policyholders a chance to speak up through their ADVISORY COMMITTEES OF POLICYHOLDERS.

At these Committee meetings our policyholders tell us what their needs are and suggest ways of filling them. In this way many beneficial products and services have resulted.

If you'd like to know more about Nationwide's POLICYHOLDER ADVISORY COMMITTEES, or if you'd like to attend one of the meetings—whether or not you're now a policyholder—a free pamphlet is yours for the asking. Just drop a card to:

The double ring wedding ceremony was solemnized at 7 p. m., in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church with Rev. Frederick Eckert officiating. Standards of white gladioli, shasta daisies, carnations and baby breath were used in the decorations wtih candelabra of lighted tapers.

Mrs. Couter's gown was orchid colored and she carried a Colonial bouquet of orchid and wine colored shasta daisies and carnations. Mrs. Keller's gown was mint green and her bouquet of yellow shasta daisies and carnations with green babybreath.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Summertime Glamor

You prepare your home for summer, so why not your beauty requirements? As hot weather is upon us, it is time to take a few precautions so you can ignore the heat and trying days. And, in turn be more calm, be more charming, and enjoy the warmer months.

Lighten your diet, but keep it appetizing and most colorful (this is easy with the profusion of fresh fruits and vegetables available). Have a balance of hot and cold menus. Eat plenty of salty foods unless, your doctor says otherwise. Increase your liquid intake.

Adjust your stride to a snail's pace. On a particularly warm and oppressive day, note how a cool appearance and serene manner will act like a sea breeze to others. You can cultivate mental tranquility if you try.

A bath is, all around, one of your best beauty bets. Take a warm bath before dinner, and, if possible, rest half an hour. Put a fresh costume and make-up on before your husband comes home to dinner. If you haven't had time for a bath or quick shower, take a leisurely one before retiring. And, a tepid shower is a "must" before dressing in the morning. Dust with a medicated talc if you are subject to skin irritations from heat. Double up on your deodorant applications.

Select a lightweight powder base that matches your tan in color and lies silken on your skin. Watch that your lipstick doesn't run (it melts easily in sun and may feather out around your mouth in tiny, untidy lines). Apply sparingly and blot lips with a tissue. Rouge shouldn't be necessary, as fresh air brings a natural glow to your cheeks. Too much make-up is out of place in the summer.

Homemakers Plan Tour For Meeting

Maryland homemakers who plan to attend the National Home Demonstration Council meeting in San Antonio, Texas, this fall have an opportunity to combine the three-day meeting with an additional 12-day sightseeing tour. Arrangements are being made by Mrs. Ruth Needling, Baltimore City Homemaker's Club member.

Mrs. Needling reports that the sightseeing tour she coupled with last year's National Council meeting in Minneapolis, Minn., was a great success, and that is one of the reasons for her plans again this year. She feels that for many homemakers this medium of "going together" by chartered bus to the national meeting has become a must.

The proposed itinerary for the trip includes departure from the tour company terminal in Baltimore, September 18. The group will then travel to Washington, Warrenton, Va., and on to Roanoke where they will stay the first night.

Then the group travels on to Asheville, North Carolina, and visits the Biltmore family estates. The following day the group sightsees in the Great Smoky Mountain area with stops at Gatlinburg, Tenn., and the Cherokee Indian reservation.

Traveling through Tennessee and Louisiana the women will stay overnight in Shreveport, La., and then arrive in San Antonio, Texas, September 23 where they will attend convention activities for three days.

Returning to Maryland the sightseeing group will visit in New Orleans, Montgomery, Ala., and Atlanta, Ga. They will return to Baltimore October 3.

Tour information is available from Mrs. Needling, 3404 Menlo Drive, Baltimore.

Mrs. Alice Deneen, 510 Baltimore Avenue, is a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Kennel Club To Entertain With Picnic, Mock Show

The Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club will hold its annual picnic July 22. It is to be at Clifton D. Jeffries cottage on the Casselman river, near Grantsville.

Remove Stains First

Hot, humid summer days mean more work for the homemaker when she is trying to keep her family in clean, freshly laundered and starched cottons. But the home laundry job can be made more efficient, and the washing machine can do a better job, with a few suggestions from Joanne W. Reitz, extension home management specialist, University of Maryland, former Allegany County home demonstration agent.

For one thing—the specialist says it pays to examine clothes for special stains. Stains are best removed when they are fresh, and always before the clothes are washed. Hot water and detergent may set stains, so they never can be removed.

Another recommendation is advance soaking for clothes that are heavily soiled. How to soak, and how long to soak depends on the condition of the clothes. In U. S. Department of Agriculture tests, one of the methods found most effective for loosening "hard-to-remove" soil is a 10 to 15-minute "agitated soak" in the washing machine. Use lukewarm water and about one-half as much detergent as needed for regular washing. Moving clothes, even slowly, in the soaking solution in the machine gets them ready for thorough cleaning by regular washing, according to USDA tests.

While soiled overalls may be soaked in a tub of cool water, shirt collars and cuffs often "come clean" if soaked in lukewarm water and detergent.

Whatever your choice of advance laundry job, be sure to follow through. It helps your washing machine, and it helps you, says Miss Reitz.

The Nurses Alumnae Association of Sacred Heart Hospital will hold a picnic tomorrow at 2 o'clock at the Celanese pool.

The double ring wedding ceremony was solemnized at 7 p. m., in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church with Rev. Frederick Eckert officiating. Standards of white gladioli, shasta daisies, carnations and baby breath were used in the decorations wtih candelabra of lighted tapers.

Mrs. Greta Couter was the bride's matron of honor and Mrs. Shirley Keller, bride's maid. Donald L. Puhalla served as best man, while George Taglaifair and Donald Hammersmith were the ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace over white taffeta. Fashioned with a fitted bodice, it had a V shaped neckline, long sleeves tapering to a point on the hand and a full, floor length, skirt ending in a sweeping train. Her fingertip length veil of imported illusion was held by a tiara of irridescent sequin and seed pearls. Completing her costume, the bride carried a white Bible with a white orchid marker.

Her attendants' gowns were of Chantilly lace, made similar to the bride's, but with ballerina length skirts. With them they wore horsehair braid picture hats. Mrs. Couter's gown was orchid colored and she carried a Colonial bouquet of orchid and wine colored shasta daisies and carnations. Mrs. Keller's gown was mint green and her bouquet of yellow shasta daisies and carnations with green babybreath.

Mrs. Hicks chose a dusty rose, street length, lace dress for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore a white hat and accessories, and had a corsage of rueben lilies. Mrs. Smith was attired in a pink costume, and also had a corsage of rueben lilies.

The four tiered wedding cake was adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Refreshments were served by members of the Queen Esther Bible Class.

For traveling the bride wore a powder blue, lace dress with white accessories and her orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Puhalla will reside at the home of her parents for the present.

Homemakers Plan Tour For Meeting

Maryland homemakers who plan to attend the National Home Demonstration Council meeting in San Antonio, Texas, this fall have an opportunity to combine the three-day meeting with an additional 12-day sightseeing tour. Arrangements are being made by Mrs. Ruth Needling, Baltimore City Homemaker's Club member.

Mrs. Needling reports that the sightseeing tour she coupled with last year's National Council meeting in Minneapolis, Minn., was a great success, and that is one of the reasons for her plans again this year. She feels that for many homemakers this medium of "going together" by chartered bus to the national meeting has become a must.

The proposed itinerary for the trip includes departure from the tour company terminal in Baltimore, September 18. The group will then travel to Washington, Warrenton, Va., and on to Roanoke where they will stay the first night.

Then the group travels on to Asheville, North Carolina, and visits the Biltmore family estates. The following day the group sightsees in the Great Smoky Mountain area with stops at Gatlinburg, Tenn., and the Cherokee Indian reservation.

Traveling through Tennessee and Louisiana the women will stay overnight in Shreveport, La., and then arrive in San Antonio, Texas, September 23 where they will attend convention activities for three days.

Returning to Maryland the sightseeing group will visit in New Orleans, Montgomery, Ala., and Atlanta, Ga. They will return to Baltimore October 3.

Tour information is available from Mrs. Needling, 3404 Menlo Drive, Baltimore.

Mrs. Alice Deneen, 510 Baltimore Avenue, is a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Summertime Glamor

You prepare your home for summer, so why not your beauty requirements? As hot weather is upon us, it is time to take a few precautions so you can ignore the heat and trying days. And, in turn be more calm, be more charming, and enjoy the warmer months.

Lighten your diet, but keep it appetizing and most colorful (this is easy with the profusion of fresh fruits and vegetables available). Have a balance of hot and cold menus. Eat plenty of salty foods unless, your doctor says otherwise. Increase your liquid intake.

Adjust your stride to a snail's pace. On a particularly warm and oppressive day, note how a cool appearance and serene manner will act like a sea breeze to others. You can cultivate mental tranquility if you try.

A bath is, all around, one of your best beauty bets. Take a warm bath before dinner, and, if possible, rest half an hour. Put a fresh costume and make-up on before your husband comes home to dinner. If you haven't had time for a bath or quick shower, take a leisurely one before retiring. And, a tepid shower is a "must" before dressing in the morning. Dust with a medicated talc if you are subject to skin irritations from heat. Double up on your deodorant applications.

Select a lightweight powder base that matches your tan in color and lies silken on your skin. Watch that your lipstick doesn't run (it melts easily in sun and may feather out around your mouth in tiny, untidy lines). Apply sparingly and blot lips with a tissue. Rouge shouldn't be necessary, as fresh air brings a natural glow to your cheeks. Too much make-up is out of place in the summer.

SUMMERIZING YOUR BEAUTY

For figure loviiness, grace and sparkling vitality, follow the 30-day wonder program outlined in SUMMERIZING YOUR BEAUTY. For a copy of the program write to SECRETS OF CHARM, in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c (in coin) and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

"Money Trees" Suggested

Casper Brown, 1909 Bedford Street, said sale of lots in the section has stopped since all the fuss about costs began. He cited loss of revenue to the city and said some lots were not worth building on at the price which must be asked as the result of additional taxes, and assessments.

He said if the city could find the proper soil to fill in these lots and grow "money trees" perhaps that would be the answer. And he added, the situation is getting out of hand since taxes and assessments are hurting the sale of lots.

Leonard Schwab, 900 Frederick Street, questioned why Frederick Street residents must pay the cost of a storm sewer when those below Lowell Avenue did not have to pay when the sewer there was installed. And he later said, a lot of questions had been asked at the meeting without getting any answers. As a result, he said he believes council should give more thought to the matter before acting.

J. I. Mattingly, 916 Frederick Street, asked council about sidewalks and curbs which has been in existence prior to the start of the improvement project. He said residents had paid for the original sidewalks as well as two feet of private ground which was "confiscated" to make room for the new project. The city did not pay for the land which was "confiscated," he said.

Mattingly added that the new storm sewer was not needed on Frederick Street. The sewer which was there previously was large enough to take care of residents' needs on that street, he added.

Fred Driscoll, 719 Oldtown Road, a member of the House of Delegates, reviewed the situation beginning in 1940 when, he said, someone wanted to open Frederick Street all the way through. The city asked the Bopps and the Schlundts for rights-of-way. The proposal was approved under certain conditions. No money was involved, he said, adding in the agreement certain work was to be performed for cost of the material and upon completion of that work, the city would surface the street without cost to property owners.

Other Residents Protest

He said he believes residents have a legal obligation to pay material costs for curbing and sidewalks, and the city has an obligation to pave Frederick Street without cost to property owners.

As for the storm sewer, Driscoll said he didn't believe "one nickel" should be charged to property owners on Frederick Street but should come from general funds since it serves the entire area.

Hughes said residents feel that just because they live in a valley between two hills, they do not believe they should have to bear full cost of the storm sewer.

Others heard in protest to the proposal yesterday were Edward Eichner, 1100 Frederick Street; M. R. Barnes, 1514 Frederick Street, who said he had been told sometime ago that the assessment cost would be $3.23 a lineal foot and urged council to stick to original agreements; and Gaither Martin, 950 Frederick Street.

Cadillac

His Last Switch in Motor Cars!

We have no way of knowing, of course, how many different makes of motor cars this gentleman has owned through the years.

But we're willing to bet that he has now made his last switch in motor cars!

For this time it's a Cadillac! And it is historically true that once a motorist makes the move to the "car of cars", he is usually a Cadillac owner for life.

What are the reasons for this great devotion and loyalty? Well, let us count them off.

First of all, there are the things which everyone recognizes in Cadillac. There is its great beauty . . . its matchless luxury . . . and the unquestioned respect which the car commands the world over.

Then there are those qualities with which anyone who has ever driven a Cadillac is familiar. There is its marvelous comfort and ease of handling . . . its magnificent power and performance . . . and its wonderful balance and agility.

And, finally, there are those things which only Cadillac owners themselves can fully appreciate. There is the car's remarkable economy of operation and upkeep—its incredible longevity—and its marvelous resale value.

Incidentally, you will find that we have recently made two additions to this list of things you get when you make your decision for Cadillac.

We're talking about prompt delivery and a generous trade-in allowance!

Better come in while the circumstances are so favorable—and make your last switch in motor cars!

Wheat Quota Referendum Set July 20

Balloting Slated In Keyser City Building

KEYSER — A wheat marketing quota referendum for Mineral County will be held Friday, July 20, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. in the County ASC office, City Building, Keyser. James E. Taylor is the chairman of Mineral County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

County wheat growers with wheat allotments of over 15 acres or who expect to harvest more than 15 acres of wheat in 1957 are eligible to vote. Two thirds of all eligible voters voting in the referendum on a nation wide basis must vote favorably for quotas to make them effective for 1957.

If quotas are approved, price support on wheat will be continued at from 75 to 90 percent of parity or at a national average of $2 per bushel. If quotas are not approved, price support to farmers who comply with their wheat allotments will drop to 50 percent of parity.

Taylor explained marketing quotas on wheat are due to the immense surplus of that commodity in storage at the present time.

The Soil Bank program now going into effect, he said is expected to reduce surpluses of wheat in the nex few years by inducing farmers to take part of their wheat land out of production.

Farmers in the county with wheat allotments have been notified of the extent of their 1957 allotment. Those who have no wheat allotment and who expect to plan wheat for 1957 harvest should apply at the County ASC office for an allotment before July 30.

Wheat Quota Referendum Set July 20

Balloting Slated In Keyser City Building

KEYSER — A wheat marketing quota referendum for Mineral County will be held Friday, July 20, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. in the County ASC office, City Building, Keyser. James E. Taylor is the chairman of Mineral County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

County wheat growers with wheat allotments of over 15 acres or who expect to harvest more than 15 acres of wheat in 1957 are eligible to vote. Two thirds of all eligible voters voting in the referendum on a nation wide basis must vote favorably for quotas to make them effective for 1957.

If quotas are approved, price support on wheat will be continued at from 75 to 90 percent of parity or at a national average of $2 per bushel. If quotas are not approved, price support to farmers who comply with their wheat allotments will drop to 50 percent of parity.

Taylor explained marketing quotas on wheat are due to the immense surplus of that commodity in storage at the present time.

The Soil Bank program now going into effect, he said is expected to reduce surpluses of wheat in the nex few years by inducing farmers to take part of their wheat land out of production.

Farmers in the county with wheat allotments have been notified of the extent of their 1957 allotment. Those who have no wheat allotment and who expect to plan wheat for 1957 harvest should apply at the County ASC office for an allotment before July 30.

Baby, 2, Takes Vermin Poison At Eckhart Home

A series of unusual accidents kept nurses at Miners Hospital, Frostburg, busy over the weekend.

Donald Nolan, two-year-old Cedar Lake, Ind., youth, who has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Meshack B. Hawn, in Eckhart, was rushed to the hospital Sunday after it was discovered he had swallowed rat poison. He was released after having his stomach pumped.

An unidentified soldier was treated after he tore four toenails from his right foot while diving from a springboard at Swauger's Beach in Garrett county Sunday.

Mary Perkins, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Perkins, Wrights Crossing, was treated for a head wound suffered in an unusual accident. Attaches said she and a playmate were jumping from the back porch of the Perkins home when the companion lost her balance and fell against the Perkins girl, her face striking the injured girl's head and her teeth cutting the head so badly three clamps had to be used to close the wound.

Two eight-year-old children, one a Cumberland youth, were given anti-rabies shots after being bitten by dogs. The former was Daniel Ohler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ohler, 18 Putnam Street. The other child was Christine Hall, of Mt. Savage, whom attaches said was bitten on his hand and arm by a neighbor's dog.

A five-year-old Frostburg girl, Elizabeth Taylor, was taken to Miners Sunday morning after she swallowed a nickel.

Clocks Vs. Tobacco

Bristol, Conn., Mayor Disputes McKeldin

BRISTOL, Conn., July 9 (AP)—The mayor of this clock-making town says Maryland's governor misstated fact when he said Maryland tobacco exports suffered because of a boost in the import duty on timepieces.

Mayor James P. Casey, a Democrat, accused Maryland's Republican Gov. McKeldin of making a "political pitch at the expense of jobs and paychecks of my friends and neighbors."

Casey, in a letter to President Eisenhower, said that McKeldin claims since the Federal Tariff Commission upped the rate on timepieces by 50 per cent in July, 1954, shipments of tobacco to Switzerland have been reduced.

Said Casey's letter:

"Gov. McKeldin fails to note that you acted because Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and his aides had declared 'the horological industry essential to the mobilization base.'"

As for Maryland tobacco suffering, Casey ticked off this information he said comes from "Tobacco Statistics," published by the Agriculture Department:

In 1953-54 shipments of Maryland tobacco to Switzerland amounted to 4,837,000 pounds while in 1955 they were 5,293,000. For the first six months of this year shipments total 4,321,000 against 3,586,000 for the same period last year, Casey quoted the tobacco publication.

"I do not, therefore, propose to stand idly by while the gentleman from the free state of Maryland makes a political pitch at the expense and jobs and paychecks of my friends and neighbors," he wrote. "Gov. McKeldin has joined forces with those who would liquidate any industry which has its roots deep in the cities and towns adjacent to my own community and would give exclusive domination of the watch and clock industry to Swiss and other foreign interests."

Ex-State Dept. Aide Dies In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP)—Daniel Miller, former State Department aide, died yesterday after an illness of more than a year.

Miller, 67, served with the State Department for about 15 years in England and India.

He returned to Baltimore in 1935 and worked for the Baltimore Transit Co. until 1944 when he lost both legs in an accident.

He was a member of the family which operated the Daniel Miller Co. a Baltimore dry goods firm, for 108 years until it was dissolved in 1946.

Miller, a bachelor, is survived by a brother, E. Kirkbride Miller of Burlingame, Cal., and a sister, Mary K. Miller of San Miguel, Mexico.

Hospital Has Enough Nurses For Polio Cases

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP) — City Hospitals, "as of the moment" has enough nurses to treat infantile paralysis cases.

P. J. McMillan, hospital superintendent, had reported last week the nursing shortage was acute. Now, the hospital has 12 to tend iron lung cases, and other hospitals have furnished nurses on a full time and standby basis.

The hospital is the center for diagnosis and treatment of polio cases from all Maryland east of Hagerstown, with the exception of the area adjoining, Washington, D.C.

Court Dismisses Desegregation Move By NAACP

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP) — A complaint that the St. Mary's County Board of Education had failed to integregate its school as directed by the U.S. Supreme Court was dismissed in Federal Court today.

Judge Roszel C. Thomsen ruled that the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and 66 Negro children hadn't exhausted their right of appeals to State and local authorities.

Last March 16, the NAACP said in its federal court complaint the county school board was denying the Negro children their constitutional rights to an integrated education.

The NAACP said the St. Mary's board hadn't integrated its schools and didn't have a plan for doing so. The NAACP sought an injunction against continued segregation and an order to require a plan for integration.

The board, through its attorneys, said the NAACP failed to prove that it hadn't made a start toward integration of classes and the NAACP hadn't exhausted all legal and administrative remedies.

Judge Thomsen agreed in his opinion. He said the NAACP should appeal to the county superintendent for admission of the Negro students to "the school of their choice," and then go to the State Board of Education should the county board render "an adverse decision."

Judge Thomsen gave the NAACP and the Negro students until Nov. 15 to file an amended complaint after they take their appeal to the State Board of Education, or at any time within 60 days after the State board makes a ruling.

NAACP counsel said it hadn't been decided which course to follow.

Rep. Lankford Praised By PTA

COLLEGE PARK, Md., July 9 (AP)—A group of Maryland PTA officers was told that Rep. Lankford (D-Md) was the only Maryland congressman who "voted right" on the defeated federal aid to education bill.

Mrs. Edna Cook of the legislative committee of the Maryland Congress of PTA's told a workshop meeting at the University of Maryland, "The voting record of Maryland congressmen was not too good."

About 255 PTA officers are attending the three-day summer conference.

Mrs. Cook said Lankford was the only Marylander to vote against the Powell amendment, which would have limited aid to nonsegregated schools, and for the over-all bill.

She also gave the audience advice on how to get the most State aid for local schools.

Besides basic State funds all school districts get automatically, she said, schools may obtain sizable amounts from the so-called equalization and incentive funds set up by the State.

The equalization fund is designed to aid schools in communities with a disproportion between the assessable tax base and the pupil load. The latter is used to aid and promote school construction.

Robert Dubel, assistant executive secretary of the Maryland Teachers Asssn., told the group that a bill proposing a $400 across the board raise for teachers will be introduced into the next session of the Maryland Legislature. A similar bill was defeated last session.

Franco Says Russian "New Look" Not New

WINCHESTER, Va., July 9 (AP)—Generalissimo Franco of Spain said today Russia's "new look" does not represent any change in the Soviet Union's objectives "but rather a variation in tactical strategy to better attain these objectives."

Franco, Spain's chief of state, said "the letting up of the moment constitutes a greater danger over a long period of time."

The Spanish Generalissimo outlined his views in a letter to Harry F. Byrd Jr., editor of the Winchester Star and Harrisonburg News Record. Byrd published the copyrighted story today and made it available to other Associated Press members.

Green Tomato Crop Harvesting Begins

CRISFIELD, Md., July 9 (AP) — The early green tomato crop began moving out of Somerset County today, with prospects of a bumper yield.

Short crops elsewhere gave promise of a good market for the shore product.

The ripe tomato season is expected to start shortly, with canning factories ready to begin operation in two or three weeks.

Appeal For Blood

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP) — The Red Cross appealed to military personnel in the Washington area today to donate blood to help relieve a critical shortage in hospitals here.

A bloodmobile will be stationed tomorrow at Fort Myers' north area from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. (EDT) to receive donations.

SWASTIKA AT SEIZED PLANT—A flag with a Nazi swastika on it appeared yesterday at a plant of the struck Laclede Gas Co. in St. Louis. Some 2,200 union employes remained away from their jobs, defying a seizure order issued last week by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly. Some 18 to 20 thousand homes and businesses in the St. Louis area were without gas yesterday on the ninth day of the strike. (AP Photofax)

Water Pollution Control Bill Gets Ike's Signature

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed into law today a bill making federal water pollution control a permanent program.

At the same time, in a statement issued at the temporary White House here, Eisenhower said the measure in one respect goes beyond what he recommended — by providing for federal grants to localities to pay part of the cost of constructing municipal sewage treatment works.

The bill as signed authorizes annual appropriations of five million dollars for grants to states carrying out water pollution control programs.

Eisenhower's statement said the bill "directs the surgeon general of the Public Health Service, in every case, among other factors to give consideration to the propriety of federal aid" in building sewage treatment plans. He added:

"I have requested the secretary of health, education and welfare and the surgeon general to prepare criteria by which the propriety of federal aid will be determined.

"Meanwhile, I urge that no community with sufficient resources to construct a needed sewage treatment project without federal aid, postpone that construction simply because of the prospect of a possible federal grant. It should be clearly understood that federal aid will not be available to all communities and, with respect to any one project, the federal funds are limited in amount under the provisions of the bill."

The first federal water pollution control act was enacted in 1948. Eisenhower said it "has proved its great value," and so he recommended last year that it be made permanent.

Mrs. Nunley B. Snedegar, National Committeewoman, said Mollohan will start his seven-county tour at a luncheon here Monday. He will speak at another women's luncheon in Grafton Tuesday and will address a dinner meeting for men and women that evening at Weston.

Mollohan will address a women's luncheon in Morgantown Wednesday and speak in Fairmont that night at a dinner meeting for Marion County Democratic women. The Democratic aspirants, all politically unknown, are Fairfax attorney Warren D. Quenstedt, airline executive Morten S. Beyer, and Julius Brenner, Arlington bakery owner.

Baltimore's Ban On "Outside" Ice Cream Held Void

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP)—A federal judge ruled today Baltimore can't freeze out ice cream not made in Baltimore.

Judge Reuben Oppenheimer ruled unconstitutional a city ordinance that bans sale of ice cream made outside the city.

A Philadelphia firm had attacked the ordinance which Judge Oppenheimer noted was the only one with such a ban in 95 cities with populations of 100,000 or more.

The Supplee - Wills - Jones Milk Co. of Philadelphia brought suit after it was denied a permit to sell its ice cream products in Baltimore. It already sells in five Maryland counties.

Judge Oppenheimer held that the Baltimore ban conflicts with the interstate commerce clause of the Federal constitution.

Exchange Students To Visit Baltimore

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Some 140 exchange students will visit Baltimore July 14 to 17 as part of a tour of the United States before returning to their homes abroad.

They are part of 654 students from 25 countries who spent a year in American high schools under sponsorship of local communities.

The American Field Service, which directs the program, said four busloads of students will visit Baltimore.

'Miss Maryland' Hearty Eater

According to Mrs. Charlene Holt, the State's "Miss Maryland", she has to do just that.

"Yesterday," said Miss Maryland, "this is what I had for breakfast: a veal cutlet with lots of creamed gravy and toast, two soft poached eggs, two glasses of milk and lots of orange juice.

"And I had an equally large lunch and dinner with malts and milkshakes in between."

The tall, slim brunette discussed her weight problem before taking off for the Miss United States contest at Long Beach, Calif. this week.

To make things tougher it seems she loses weight everytime she gets excited. Winning the Miss Maryland contest last week cost her several pounds and she may shed more weight during the national contest.

Therefore, she's eating as much as possible to keep up her normal 130 to 134 pounds on a 5 foot 8 inch frame.

Clocks Vs. Tobacco

Bristol, Conn., Mayor Disputes McKeldin

BRISTOL, Conn., July 9 (AP)—The mayor of this clock-making town says Maryland's governor misstated fact when he said Maryland tobacco exports suffered because of a boost in the import duty on timepieces.

Mayor James P. Casey, a Democrat, accused Maryland's Republican Gov. McKeldin of making a "political pitch at the expense of jobs and paychecks of my friends and neighbors."

Casey, in a letter to President Eisenhower, said that McKeldin claims since the Federal Tariff Commission upped the rate on timepieces by 50 per cent in July, 1954, shipments of tobacco to Switzerland have been reduced.

Said Casey's letter:

"Gov. McKeldin fails to note that you acted because Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and his aides had declared 'the horological industry essential to the mobilization base.'"

As for Maryland tobacco suffering, Casey ticked off this information he said comes from "Tobacco Statistics," published by the Agriculture Department:

In 1953-54 shipments of Maryland tobacco to Switzerland amounted to 4,837,000 pounds while in 1955 they were 5,293,000. For the first six months of this year shipments total 4,321,000 against 3,586,000 for the same period last year, Casey quoted the tobacco publication.

"I do not, therefore, propose to stand idly by while the gentleman from the free state of Maryland makes a political pitch at the expense and jobs and paychecks of my friends and neighbors," he wrote. "Gov. McKeldin has joined forces with those who would liquidate any industry which has its roots deep in the cities and towns adjacent to my own community and would give exclusive domination of the watch and clock industry to Swiss and other foreign interests."

Court Dismisses Desegregation Move By NAACP

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP) — A complaint that the St. Mary's County Board of Education had failed to integregate its school as directed by the U.S. Supreme Court was dismissed in Federal Court today.

Judge Roszel C. Thomsen ruled that the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and 66 Negro children hadn't exhausted their right of appeals to State and local authorities.

Last March 16, the NAACP said in its federal court complaint the county school board was denying the Negro children their constitutional rights to an integrated education.

The NAACP said the St. Mary's board hadn't integrated its schools and didn't have a plan for doing so. The NAACP sought an injunction against continued segregation and an order to require a plan for integration.

The board, through its attorneys, said the NAACP failed to prove that it hadn't made a start toward integration of classes and the NAACP hadn't exhausted all legal and administrative remedies.

Judge Thomsen agreed in his opinion. He said the NAACP should appeal to the county superintendent for admission of the Negro students to "the school of their choice," and then go to the State Board of Education should the county board render "an adverse decision."

Judge Thomsen gave the NAACP and the Negro students until Nov. 15 to file an amended complaint after they take their appeal to the State Board of Education, or at any time within 60 days after the State board makes a ruling.

NAACP counsel said it hadn't been decided which course to follow.

Rep. Lankford Praised By PTA

COLLEGE PARK, Md., July 9 (AP)—A group of Maryland PTA officers was told that Rep. Lankford (D-Md) was the only Maryland congressman who "voted right" on the defeated federal aid to education bill.

Mrs. Edna Cook of the legislative committee of the Maryland Congress of PTA's told a workshop meeting at the University of Maryland, "The voting record of Maryland congressmen was not too good."

About 255 PTA officers are attending the three-day summer conference.

Mrs. Cook said Lankford was the only Marylander to vote against the Powell amendment, which would have limited aid to non-segregated schools, and for the over-all bill.

She also gave the audience advice on how to get the most State aid for local schools.

Besides basic State funds all school districts get automatically, she said, schools may obtain sizable amounts from the so-called equalization and incentive funds set up by the State.

The equalization fund is designed to aid schools in communities with a disproportion between the assessable tax base and the pupil load. The latter is used to aid and promote school construction.

Robert Dubel, assistant executive secretary of the Maryland Teachers Asssn., told the group that a bill proposing a $400 across the board raise for teachers will be introduced into the next session of the Maryland Legislature. A similar bill was defeated last session.

Franco Says Russian "New Look" Not New

WINCHESTER, Va., July 9 (AP)—Generalissimo Franco of Spain said today Russia's "new look" does not represent any change in the Soviet Union's objectives "but rather a variation in tactical strategy to better attain these objectives."

Franco, Spain's chief of state, said "the letting up of the moment constitutes a greater danger over a long period of time."

The Spanish Generalissimo outlined his views in a letter to Harry F. Byrd Jr., editor of the Winchester Star and Harrisonburg News Record. Byrd published the copyrighted story today and made it available to other Associated Press members.

Green Tomato Crop Harvesting Begins

CRISFIELD, Md., July 9 (AP) — The early green tomato crop began moving out of Somerset County today, with prospects of a bumper yield.

Short crops elsewhere gave promise of a good market for the shore product.

The ripe tomato season is expected to start shortly, with canning factories ready to begin operation in two or three weeks.

Appeal For Blood

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP) — The Red Cross appealed to military personnel in the Washington area today to donate blood to help relieve a critical shortage in hospitals here.

A bloodmobile will be stationed tomorrow at Fort Myers' north area from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. (EDT) to receive donations.

SWASTIKA AT SEIZED PLANT—A flag with a Nazi swastika on it appeared yesterday at a plant of the struck Laclede Gas Co. in St. Louis. Some 2,200 union employes remained away from their jobs, defying a seizure order issued last week by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly. Some 18 to 20 thousand homes and businesses in the St. Louis area were without gas yesterday on the ninth day of the strike. (AP Photofax)

Water Pollution Control Bill Gets Ike's Signature

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed into law today a bill making federal water pollution control a permanent program.

At the same time, in a statement issued at the temporary White House here, Eisenhower said the measure in one respect goes beyond what he recommended — by providing for federal grants to localities to pay part of the cost of constructing municipal sewage treatment works.

The bill as signed authorizes annual appropriations of five million dollars for grants to states carrying out water pollution control programs.

Eisenhower's statement said the bill "directs the surgeon general of the Public Health Service, in every case, among other factors to give consideration to the propriety of federal aid" in building sewage treatment plans. He added:

"I have requested the secretary of health, education and welfare and the surgeon general to prepare criteria by which the propriety of federal aid will be determined.

"Meanwhile, I urge that no community with sufficient resources to construct a needed sewage treatment project without federal aid, postpone that construction simply because of the prospect of a possible federal grant. It should be clearly understood that federal aid will not be available to all communities and, with respect to any one project, the federal funds are limited in amount under the provisions of the bill."

The first federal water pollution control act was enacted in 1948. Eisenhower said it "has proved its great value," and so he recommended last year that it be made permanent.

Mollohan Seeks Women's Vote

Of seven northern West Virginia audiences he will address next week, five will be made up completely of women.

Mrs. Nunley B. Snedegar, National Committeewoman, said Mollohan will start his seven-county tour at a luncheon here Monday. He will speak at another women's luncheon in Grafton Tuesday and will address a dinner meeting for men and women that evening at Weston.

Mollohan will address a women's luncheon in Morgantown Wednesday and speak in Fairmont that night at a dinner meeting for Marion County Democratic women. On Thursday he will address a luncheon of Harrison County women in Clarksburg and speak before an audience of men and women that night in West Union.

Va. Election Today

RICHMOND, Va., July 9 (AP) — Democrats will choose a candidate from a field of three to oppose Rep. Joel T. Broyhill (R) of the northern Virginia 10th District in the state's only congressional primary election contest tomorrow.

The Democratic aspirants, all politically unknown, are Fairfax attorney Warren D. Quenstedt, airline executive Morten S. Beyer, and Julius Brenner, Arlington bakery owner.

VIENNA, Austria, July 9 (AP)—Czech papers arriving here today reported the arrest of four Czechs charged with being spies for the United States.

Baltimore's Ban On "Outside" Ice Cream Held Void

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP)—A federal judge ruled today Baltimore can't freeze out ice cream not made in Baltimore.

Judge Reuben Oppenheimer ruled unconstitutional a city ordinance that bans sale of ice cream made outside the city.

A Philadelphia firm had attacked the ordinance which Judge Oppenheimer noted was the only one with such a ban in 95 cities with populations of 100,000 or more.

The Supplee - Wills - Jones Milk Co. of Philadelphia brought suit after it was denied a permit to sell its ice cream products in Baltimore. It already sells in five Maryland counties.

Judge Oppenheimer held that the Baltimore ban conflicts with the interstate commerce clause of the Federal constitution.

Exchange Students To Visit Baltimore

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Some 140 exchange students will visit Baltimore July 14 to 17 as part of a tour of the United States before returning to their homes abroad.

They are part of 654 students from 25 countries who spent a year in American high schools under sponsorship of local communities.

The American Field Service, which directs the program, said four busloads of students will visit Baltimore.

'Miss Maryland' Hearty Eater

According to Mrs. Charlene Holt, the State's "Miss Maryland", she has to do just that.

"Yesterday," said Miss Maryland, "this is what I had for breakfast: a veal cutlet with lots of creamed gravy and toast, two soft poached eggs, two glasses of milk and lots of orange juice.

"And I had an equally large lunch and dinner with malts and milkshakes in between."

To make things tougher it seems she loses weight everytime she gets excited. Winning the Miss Maryland contest last week cost her several pounds and she may shed more weight during the national contest.

Therefore, she's eating as much as possible to keep up her normal 130 to 134 pounds on a 5 foot 8 inch frame.

A Tribute To The Farmer

From the soil comes the sustenance of the world. From the hard working man who tills the soil comes the fruits of Nature in bountiful array. God loves the Farmer, someone has said, because he is in such close communion with the good earth. He plows it. He plants it. He worries over it. And lo, then his smiling fields are lush and abundant with tassels, tomatoes and all the things we eat. Fat cows and porkers give us milk and meat. And Mrs. Farmer has chickens and turkeys for the market. Without the Farmer there would be no life or living. Let's salute his sun up to sunset existence . . . and be grateful for his bounty!

A Tribute To The Farmer

From the soil comes the sustenance of the world. From the hard working man who tills the soil comes the fruits of Nature in bountiful array. God loves the Farmer, someone has said, because he is in such close communion with the good earth. He plows it. He plants it. He worries over it. And lo, then his smiling fields are lush and abundant with tassels, tomatoes and all the things we eat. Fat cows and porkers give us milk and meat. And Mrs. Farmer has chickens and turkeys for the market. Without the Farmer there would be no life or living. Let's salute his sun up to sunset existence . . . and be grateful for his bounty!

Old Swimming Hole Served A Purpose

One wonders how many dignified businessmen of solid substance and generous girth look out city and town windows these blistering summer days and think of the old swimming hole down in the creek. Certain fundamentals of life continue unchanged in a society contemporaneously distinguished by a philosophy which seems to synchronize the words "change" and "progress." Boys today, as did lads of half a century ago, believe that one should bathe two or three times daily in hot weather.

In the winter, of course, it is a different story. A bath every Saturday night in cold weather is an egregious waste of time and energy. But from the end of May until well into September, it is entirely logical that a young man take a frequent dip in the swimming hole. Ideally, a swimming hole should be so protected by overhanging willows and alders that no swimming clothes are necessary. Not that today's abbreviated swimming apparel is any deterrent to efficent swimming, but still, a boy likes the freedom of the natural state.

It is the heartening thought of the waiting swimming hole that keeps many farm boys going through these July days. As a young citizen rides the tractor, as he spreads haycocks to dry or stores hay away on a scaffold where the temperature is well above 100, he wonders if he can keep working until the moment when Father says, "There, son, that's enough for today. Go get your swim and then bring home the cows.."

Miracles still happen. In just an instant a completely exhausted lad feels his strength return. He pulls off his jeans and shirts, socks and shoes, pauses for an instant on the bank, and then dives into the cool, clean, refreshing water.

Swimming holes are a part of our national heritage. It is regrettable that boys in cities cannot know what it means after a day of hot work, to cool off in the waters of a tree-shaded swimming hole.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Herbert Hoover Jr.

The physical facilities of men in public office seem to bother political opponents more these days than seem to be warranted by the facts of life. For instance, I note this paragraph in "The New York Times":

"His (Herbert Hoover Jr.'s) shyness derives from two disconnnected events. Deafened as a boy, Mr. Hoover must depend on a hearing aid. This puts a halter on easy conversation."

I have been conversing with this man these past 20 years or more and never have I noted that the use of a hearing aid lessened the sharpness of his mind or his capacity for wit and humor. Bernard Baruch and Charles Edison employ hearing aids which have apparently not interfered with their careers any more than wearing eyeglasses prevents a man from reading or writing, from being a philosopher or a banker or a professor.

It used to be that when a gang wanted to smear a man, they whispered about his sex morals as was done to Woodrow Wilson and Warren G. Harding; then it became fashionable to describe a man as reactionary or a Fascist as was done to Herbert Hoover, Senior. Then men were attacked for being soft on Communists which has been said about both Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower. Now, it is the fashion to discover a physical defect and rake a man over the coals for that, although I must say that the rakers are not themselves anything like Adonis and some of them probably suffer from ulcers or halitosis.

It would appear that Herbert Hoover Jr. has displeased those guardians of the State Department who look back to the halcyon days of Dean Acheson as the time when ideas were batted about at all levels and some were even activated, to use such parlance. Well, those were wonderful days and we are today paying a heavy price for the luxury of letting free minds play endlessly with possibilities and probabilities but avoiding realities, resulting, when the score is added up, in a series of difficulties which are proving very costly.

Thus, "The New York Times" article says:

"His warmest admirers do not credit Mr. Hoover with imagination or sureness of touch in dealing with political problems. He is not an idea man, as Dean Acheson was in the same job. His main strength lies in administration, and in carrying out policies once they have been decided."

The job for which the government hired Herbert Hoover Jr. is administration of a sprawling, uncoordinated department in charge of the very serious business of foreign relations. So far as a box score can be arranged, Herbert Hoover Jr. has not made more errors than President Eisenhower or Secretary Dulles, it being taken for granted that changes are so rapid today that it is not always possible to meet each situation as was possible perhaps in the time of Talleyrand and Castlereagh when statesmen knew each other and knew what they were talking about.

Today, suddenly a Khrushchev or a Nasser appears on the scene and all the presumptions of a month ago are no longer in focus at all. Also, it is necessary to walk warily for if we are not actually on the brink of the horrible atomic war, we are never too far away from it.

Take Nasser as an example. It is believed by some experts on Egypt that until a week ago, Nasser was talking under a terrific pressure from intensive nationalists. Now that he has become President after a one-candidate election, it is believed that he is likely to be more malleable, if that is the word. At any rate, he is more likely, these people believe, not to want to drive the United States to an utterly antagonistic position.

On the other hand, you never can tell and unless this country means to make war over the Middle East situation, it is wisest to wait a while longer to see just what develops. The argument against that is that we waited too long about China in the days of General Marshall and the Communists conquered the country.

Final decisions concerning American policy in the Eisenhower Administration are not made in the State Department. They are made in the National Security Council and the White House. But the State Department does need competent and constructive administration and that Herbert Hoover Jr. can give it.

GOP Congressmen Try To Head Off Full-Scale Probe Of Gen. Swing

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Gen. Joe Swing, the swaggering Commissioner of Immigration and Ike's classmate, '15, at West Point, has been the subject of frantic phone calls from GOP Congressmen to Democratic Congressmen. They are trying to head off a full-dress investigation of the General.

Reason for Republican worry is easy to understand. In a session before Congressman Bob Mollahans (D-W. Va.) Government Operations subcommittee last week, various of the General's activities were probed, especially his hunting expeditions into Mexico.

General Swing has developed an acute and apparently uncontrollable aptitude for guzzling at the public trough. With the passage of time and years in government, his sense of knowing the difference between government property and private property has dimmed.

Thus he not only got the Immigration Director in El Paso to draft a Mexican maid at low wages for his home in Washington, but he also ordered an Immigration Service plane to carry Attorney General Brownell around Texas on a political pilgrimage to Dixiecrat Governor Shivers.

In addition, he has given his daughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Swing Mitchell, a job in the Immigration Service working under papa. Press officials of the Immigration Service admitted this fact but were loath to reveal her salary, even though the salaries of all government officials are required to be public.

In testimony last week, General Swing admitted he had taken government cars on hunting trips into Mexico. He also admitted that on one occasion Mexican officials had disarmed his hunting companions because they had no license. He claimed, however, that when this happened he had left the party.

Quick Firing

The manner in which the Eisenhower Administration fires its officials at the drop of the hat when an official stubs his toe was revealed in the Senate Civil Service Committee probe of the Farmers Home Administration.

On March 21 this column reported certain facts about Carl O. Hansen, Montana Director of the Farmers Home Administration — how he did private wool-buying on the side, how he was a part owner of TV Station KOOK, how he used government money to make private phone calls and write private correspondence.

The sworn Senate testimony which follows tells what happened a few hours after publication of this column:

H. W. Brawley, of the Senate Committee, asked: In March 21, 1956, a newspaper columnist published charges of misconduct against Carl O. Hansen, former FHA Director in Montana. Within a very few hours after that column was published Mr. Hansen's resignation was announced. Did you in any way force or request that resignation?

R. B. McLeaish, head of FHA: I requested it, yes, sir.

Brawley: On what basis did you request it?

McLeaish: Mr. Chairman, I should consult counsel. The investigation of Mr. Hansen is not complete. There are certain aspects to it I think which would prevent me from testifying in answering that question. In other words, there may be some additional litigation or procedure in court that might be affected.

Brawley: Do you mean that the first you knew of Mr. Hansen's misconduct was the story you saw in the newspapers?

McLeaish: We had had some rumors before that, not about misconduct. Very frankly, I don't know yet, of my own knowledge, of any misconduct.

Brawley: Why did you request his resignation?

McLeaish: I think I have answered that question before, by saying that it is a question I can't answer.

Sen. Carlson of Kansas: Do I understand, then, Mr. McLeaish, that this case is still being taken under consideration and study by the department or your agency?

McLeaish: Could I let my counsel speak for me on that?

Brawley: Unless the question pertains to some security matter, I don't see how you can fail to answer the question before this Committee.

Sen. Laird of West Virginia: Mr. McLeaish has testified that he discharged Mr. Hansen and I think it is proper to tell the committee why he discharged him.

McLeaish: In a general way we thought the (Montana) program was being neglected some.

Brawley: Do you mean the FHA program in Montana?

McLeaish: Yes.

Brawley: Is that the reason you requested Mr. Hansen's resignation?

McLeaish: There has been a preliminary investigation report filed which does show some evidence of misconduct, prior to the Drew Pearson article.

Brawley: Prior to the Drew Pearson article?

McLeaish: Prior to the Drew Pearson article. I think it came in that day or the day before.

Brawley: Were you investigating Mr. Hansen at the time this column was written?

McLeaish: Yes, I was.

Brawley: I think the record ought to show why you requested Mr. Hansen's resignation. You say for that record that it was because the program was not operating as you thought it should in Montana?

McLeaish: Very frankly, we had a meeting of Mr. Scott, Mr. Farrington, and myself and another, and they reported to me that the report looked pretty bad and that we should remove Mr. Hansen from office.

L. C. Bryan, Senate investigator: May I ask whether you could not form that conclusion on your own responsibility? That you had to be told by higher authority that the report looked pretty bad?

McLeaish: Of course I didn't get the report.

Brawley: When did you get the report?

McLeaish: I didn't get it until some weeks—I mean my copy of the report—until some weeks after Mr. Hansen had been removed.

Brawley: Did you actually request his resignation on the day the column was written?

McLeaish: I think we did.

General Motors Case Poses Some Basic Questions

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—What's good for the Eisenhower Administration evidently isn't good for General Motors, after all. An antitrust suit has just been filed by the Department of Justice seeking to break up a monopoly which the big motorcar company is alleged to have in the manufacture of buses.

Presumably in this political year this will disappoint, if not frustrate, the Democrats, who have been taunting their opponents with a campaign slogan taken from an abbreviated version of what Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson once said about what was good for General Motors being good for the country and vice versa. The Democrats conveniently leave off the "vice versa."

But the real question now is whether what the Department of Justice has done is good for the country. There's nothing in the antitrust laws, for example, which says that if 80 per cent of the buses bought are products of a single company, as happens to be the case this time, then there's a "monopoly."

General Motors for years has been getting a larger and larger share of the bus-making business, and this has been just as true under the Democratic administrations as it is today. If one company makes a better product or if, because of skill and efficiency, it can sell products at a lower price than competitors, must the government step in and, in effect, compel the buyers to purchase some other produces when they might not prefer them? Does the large company now call in its sales staff and say: "Don't try to sell any more of our goods, help the competitor sell his line?"

The allocation of business volume by order of the government could lead to a cartel system such as they have abroad and which in Nazi Germany gave state capitalism the whip hand.

The competitors of General Motors would have a grievance if it is proved that General Motors has been pursuing any unfair trade practices. The principal allegation is that, since Diesel engines are made by a subdivision of General Motors, these have not been available to other manufacturers of buses.

This is a point which presents some novel questions. Must a company which has invested its own capital in an enterprise share the fruits of that venture with a competitor? If so, then why should not the government provide the capital for a joint enterprise in the first place and save the large company any of the risk or the costs of research and development, too? It's a question not easily answered without approaching the cartel system.

The principles, moreover, which apply to big business apply equally to small business, and that's why any decisions reached in the General Motors case can affect business practices far and wide.

The broad question, of course, which has been occupying the Department of Justice in recent years, is the size of modern businesses. Shall corporations be permitted to grow to the point where they have as much as 80 per cent of the business in a given industry? Do those corporations enjoy any privileged position in getting capital or in financing customers' purchases? How far shall companies be allowed to use their financial and economic power in a competitive way?

These points probably will be aired before the antitrust suit is adjudicated. But the way to more effective competition in America doesn't lie in the courts. Rather it is in the action that can be taken by Congress itself. Many members of the House and Senate talk a lot about "big business," but they are indifferent to the things that cause big business to get bigger and bigger.

Thus, under the Democratic regime, big business got its best breaks. The excess-profits-tax laws were written in such a way that the larger corporations paid relatively little tax because they had the benefit of large capital in the first place, whereas the smaller businesses were penalized heavily and were unable in their best profit years to accumulate needed capital for future expansion.

Even today the tax laws favor big business. Likewise, neither political party leadership has the courage today to do anything about the fixing of production costs which is brought about by the concerted action of labor unions in a given industry. Although a company is small and trying to compete with the larger one, it is saddled just the same with the wage scales and "fringe benefits" and expensive provisions of labor contracts that the larger companies can easily absorb but which the smaller companies cannot.

It's harder and harder for small business to compete because big business and big unionism have all the advantages in existing laws. Antitrust suits can do little to cure the situation. They merely penalize efficiency while Congress forgets that its own laws prevent competition from growing as it should under the private-enterprise system.

Baering Down on The News

Hark to the benevolent clink of foreign aid in the 1956 international give-away program. With its feet on the handle-bars the Senate voted $4,860,000,000 amicable pollen for the lilies that never bloom.

Distribution of the philanthropic moola will be calibrated by maritime neutrality. Nobody taps the piggy bank until he is thirty days at sea.

It is strictly an overseas project with the Gulf Stream running deep fat. This is as impartial as playing tablestakes with your noggin on a butcher's block.

Vigorous Oldsters Lead Happy, Healthy Lives

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The number of men and women over 65 has risen tremendously during the last 20 years. The situation has been viewed with alarm, particularly from the social, economical points of view. But the problem presented is not as great as we are led to believe.

More beds are used in chronic disease hospitals and there is a shortage of nursing homes and disability in this age group. In keeping with the times and cannot be blamed upon more sickness and disability in this age group.2 In my opinion, our senior folk are doing a marvelous job of taking care of themselves.

Many are happy and healthy despite their years. They serve as a good example of how the younger generation should live. Their middle years were spent during the prohibition era and the per capital use of cigarets had not reached its present staggering proportions. The majority got more sleep and exercise because there was less electricity and mechanization in their youth. The death rate from infection was high when today's oldsters were children, and only the healthiest survived.

Retirement can be pleasurable, provided the change in the mode of living is made gradually by preparing for the transition. Boredom kills. A machine rusts and deteriorates when it is not used and an unoccupied house falls apart. Man must continue to do something to survive and for this reason some type of work is desirable. What is done is not as important as to whether he derives satisfaction from what he is doing. Much depends upon his skills, health, and need for money.

But at this time of life rest is just as important as work and exercise. The proper amount will lead to a minimum of fatigue and wear and tear. It should not be overdone, as too much stiffens the joints and slows circulation.

Diversion also appears to be an essential ingredient of longevity. It makes no difference what the pastime is, so long as it keeps the mind and body active. It may not be easy after 65 to be moderate in eating, drinking, working, playing, smoking, and resting, particularly when the retired person is lonely or fears losing friends or becoming disabled.

DIAGNOSING HAY FEVER

C. V. writes: Do doctors have certain tests to administer which will tell whether a person has hay fever?

REPLY

Diagnosis is made by the patient's story and his nasal congestion, red eyelids, flowing tears, and spells of sneezing. Tests are done to determine the specific allergen.

ENLARGED PROSTRATE

J. W. writes: If a man's prostate is enlarged, but causing no trouble, is operation necessary?

REPLY

No, provided enlargement is not due to tumor. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on disorders of the prostate, which goes into the anatomy of this organ and abnormalities that may affect it.

ITCHING EAR CANALS

E. M. writes: The openings of my ears are so itchy I scratch until they are sore. Can you throw any light on my problem?

REPLY

Yes, but I prefer to have your physician throw his light in your ear and take a good look. The most common cause of otitis externa, a dry scaly condition, is a fungous infection, but the disorder also could stem from a bacterial infection or seborrheic dermatitis. In the latter disorder the scalp is oily and covered with greasy dandruff, which often spreads to the ears.

DENT REMAINS

T. F. writes: When I touch something the skin of my fingertips does not spring back but remains dented after I take my hand away. I'm middle-aged and in good health. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

This occurs when the fat depots at the ends of the fingers are not well stocked. Pitting of the skin is noted when the tissues are waterlogged, although it is more common in the feet than the hands.

EYE "DOCTORS"

T. W. writes: Is there any difference between an oculist and an eye doctor?

REPLY

No. Optometrists are persons without medical training who fit glasses to correct visual defects. Strictly speaking, an eye doctor is an ophthalmologist, a physician with a medical degree who specializes in diseases of the eyes and, in addition, fits glasses.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

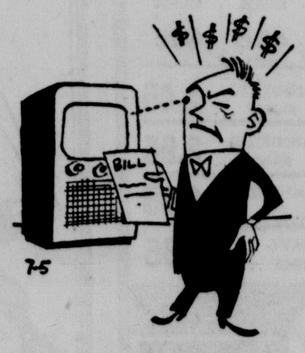

By Bennett Cerf

Think you can name the top song hits of the past 50 years? Variety, "the Bible of Show Business," fists them as follows:

In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree, Schooldays, Casey Jones, Alexander's Ragtime Band, I Want a Girl, Waiting for the Robert E. Lee, St. Louis Blues, Over There, God Bless America.

On behalf of White Christmas, I demand a recount.

Norman Anthony suggests that if the encylopedia people really want to intrigue the younger set, they revise their index titles to AVILA to BERRA, CHEEK to CHEEK, DESI to LU, ODE to MARILYN, ROCK to ROLL, and SAYS to YOU.

TV sets, particularly the newfangled color ones, observes the Indianapolis Star, are three-dimensional: they give you height, width, and debt.

Disarmament Dilemma

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

When President Eisenhower returns to the White House in a week or so, he will find his desk loaded high with all sorts of grave and pressing decisions. Among them will be this question: Is it worth making one last try to negotiate seriously on disarmament with the Soviets?

Since Andrei Gromyko's frozen-faced performance at the United Nations on July third, in which he seemed to slam the door on any agreement which the western powers could conceivably accept, the logical answer might seem to be "no." But the President is an optimist by nature, and control of the new weapons is probably closer to his heart than any other objective.

Before his recent illness, moreover, the President ordered a searching, root-and-branch review of American disarmament policy. The review has been conducted by a high level committee, headed by special Presidential Assistant Harold Stassen and including representatives from the State and Defense Departments and the Central Intelligence Agency.

Hope Remains

The work of the committee, which will report its findings to the President soon after his return, is still unfinished. But already a basic approach has been agreed upon. It is agreed that it is too early to despair, and that some real advance may still be made, provided only the hard, demonstrable self-interest of both sides is considered, and all attempt to achieve ideal solutions is abandoned.

In this new approach to disarmament, two basic assumptions have been made. First, it is tacitly recognized that the world has already passed the point of no return, as far as total control of the new weapons is concerned.

A hydrogen bomb, after all, can be hidden in a hay barn, and there is absolutely no way of detecting it, short of searching through the hay. Both this country and the Soviet Union have already produced great numbers of nuclear weapons, and there are plenty of hay barns and other hiding places in both countries. So it is futile to try to negotiate the kind of control of the new weapons envisaged in the old Baruch-Acheson plan.

The second assumption is that there are, nevertheless, at least two areas where the hard self-interest of the United States and the Soviet Union coincide, and where practical measures can be taken to serve those interests. The first area concerns the "fourth country problem," a phrase coined by the British.

It is by no means fanciful to envisage a future in which a tinpot dictator could threaten both East and West. For there are no longer any real atomic secrets, and it is fatally easy to turn out nuclear weapons, once the necessary installations are built. Surely, it is argued, it is as much to the interest of the Soviet Union as of the United States or Britain that no future Mussolini or Peron should achieve the means to threaten the great powers with total ruin.

The "Fourth Country"

Preventing the emergence of a "fourth country" is obviously politically difficult, since it involves national sovereignties. But it is at least technically feasible. Even a very limited global inspection system would detect the building of new nuclear installations. Some sort of freeze on nuclear production, at a given cut-off date, with inspection under United Nations auspices, is one approach being considered.

Another area of mutual interest is some form of mutual insurance against surprise attack. In this area, the Soviets have already shown some willingness to negotiate seriously — their proposal for limited ground inspection is considered more than a propaganda gesture. And despite Gromyko, the Stassen group believes that hope for progress on this front should not be abandoned.

Various ways of making "one last try" on disarmament have been discussed by the Stassen group — a secret approach through regular diplomatic channels, the despatch of a special Presidential emissary to Moscow, or a major new initiative by the President himself, like his "atoms for peace" proposal.

In view of Gromyko's speech, and Nikita Krushchev's scornful remarks about Western disarmament plans, the last try seems very likely to come to nothing. But the President, being the kind of man he is, will probably decide to make it all the same. And in view of the bleak alternatives, no doubt it is worth making.

Old Swimming Hole Served A Purpose

One wonders how many dignified businessmen of solid substance and generous girth look out city and town windows these blistering summer days and think of the old swimming hole down in the creek. Certain fundamentals of life continue unchanged in a society contemporaneously distinguished by a philosophy which seems to synchronize the words "change" and "progress." Boys today, as did lads of half a century ago, believe that one should bathe two or three times daily in hot weather.

In the winter, of course, it is a different story. A bath every Saturday night in cold weather is an egregious waste of time and energy. But from the end of May until well into September, it is entirely logical that a young man take a frequent dip in the swimming hole. Ideally, a swimming hole should be so protected by overhanging willows and alders that no swimming clothes are necessary. Not that today's abbreviated swimming apparel is any deterrent to efficent swimming, but still, a boy likes the freedom of the natural state.

It is the heartening thought of the waiting swimming hole that keeps many farm boys going through these July days. As a young citizen rides the tractor, as he spreads haycocks to dry or stores hay away on a scaffold where the temperature is well above 100, he wonders if he can keep working until the moment when Father says, "There, son, that's enough for today. Go get your swim and then bring home the cows.."

Miracles still happen. In just an instant a completely exhausted lad feels his strength return. He pulls off his jeans and shirts, socks and shoes, pauses for an instant on the bank, and then dives into the cool, clean, refreshing water.

Swimming holes are a part of our national heritage. It is regrettable that boys in cities cannot know what it means after a day of hot work, to cool off in the waters of a tree-shaded swimming hole.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Herbert Hoover Jr.

The physical facilities of men in public office seem to bother political opponents more these days than seem to be warranted by the facts of life. For instance, I note this paragraph in "The New York Times":

"His (Herbert Hoover Jr.'s) shyness derives from two disconnnected events. Deafened as a boy, Mr. Hoover must depend on a hearing aid. This puts a halter on easy conversation."

I have been conversing with this man these past 20 years or more and never have I noted that the use of a hearing aid lessened the sharpness of his mind or his capacity for wit and humor. Bernard Baruch and Charles Edison employ hearing aids which have apparently not interfered with their careers any more than wearing eyeglasses prevents a man from reading or writing, from being a philosopher or a banker or a professor.

It used to be that when a gang wanted to smear a man, they whispered about his sex morals as was done to Woodrow Wilson and Warren G. Harding; then it became fashionable to describe a man as reactionary or a Fascist as was done to Herbert Hoover, Senior. Then men were attacked for being soft on Communists which has been said about both Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower. Now, it is the fashion to discover a physical defect and rake a man over the coals for that, although I must say that the rakers are not themselves anything like Adonis and some of them probably suffer from ulcers or halitosis.

It would appear that Herbert Hoover Jr. has displeased those guardians of the State Department who look back to the halcyon days of Dean Acheson as the time when ideas were batted about at all levels and some were even activated, to use such parlance. Well, those were wonderful days and we are today paying a heavy price for the luxury of letting free minds play endlessly with possibilities and probabilities but avoiding realities, resulting, when the score is added up, in a series of difficulties which are proving very costly.

Thus, "The New York Times" article says:

"His warmest admirers do not credit Mr. Hoover with imagination or sureness of touch in dealing with political problems. He is not an idea man, as Dean Acheson was in the same job. His main strength lies in administration, and in carrying out policies once they have been decided."

The job for which the government hired Herbert Hoover Jr. is administration of a sprawling, uncoordinated department in charge of the very serious business of foreign relations. So far as a box score can be arranged, Herbert Hoover Jr. has not made more errors than President Eisenhower or Secretary Dulles, it being taken for granted that changes are so rapid today that it is not always possible to meet each situation as was possible perhaps in the time of Talleyrand and Castlereagh when statesmen knew each other and knew what they were talking about.

Today, suddenly a Khrushchev or a Nasser appears on the scene and all the presumptions of a month ago are no longer in focus at all. Also, it is necessary to walk warily for if we are not actually on the brink of the horrible atomic war, we are never too far away from it.

Take Nasser as an example. It is believed by some experts on Egypt that until a week ago, Nasser was talking under a terrific pressure from intensive nationalists. Now that he has become President after a one-candidate election, it is believed that he is likely to be more malleable, if that is the word. At any rate, he is more likely, these people believe, not to want to drive the United States to an utterly antagonistic position.

On the other hand, you never can tell and unless this country means to make war over the Middle East situation, it is wisest to wait a while longer to see just what develops. The argument against that is that we waited too long about China in the days of General Marshall and the Communists conquered the country.

Final decisions concerning American policy in the Eisenhower Administration are not made in the State Department. They are made in the National Security Council and the White House. But the State Department does need competent and constructive administration and that Herbert Hoover Jr. can give it.

How Much Muscle Under The Sleeve?

General Motors Case Poses Some Basic Questions

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—What's good for the Eisenhower Administration evidently isn't good for General Motors, after all. An antitrust suit has just been filed by the Department of Justice seeking to break up a monopoly which the big motorcar company is alleged to have in the manufacture of buses.

Presumably in this political year this will disappoint, if not frustrate, the Democrats, who have been taunting their opponents with a campaign slogan taken from an abbreviated version of what Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson once said about what was good for General Motors being good for the country and vice versa. The Democrats conveniently leave off the "vice versa."

But the real question now is whether what the Department of Justice has done is good for the country. There's nothing in the antitrust laws, for example, which says that if 80 per cent of the buses bought are products of a single company, as happens to be the case this time, then there's a "monopoly."

General Motors for years has been getting a larger and larger share of the bus-making business, and this has been just as true under the Democratic administrations as it is today. If one company makes a better product or if, because of skill and efficiency, it can sell products at a lower price than competitors, must the government step in and, in effect, compel the buyers to purchase some other produces when they might not prefer them? Does the large company now call in its sales staff and say: "Don't try to sell any more of our goods, help the competitor sell his line?"

The allocation of business volume by order of the government could lead to a cartel system such as they have abroad and which in Nazi Germany gave state capitalism the whip hand.

The competitors of General Motors would have a grievance if it is proved that General Motors has been pursuing any unfair trade practices. The principal allegation is that, since Diesel engines are made by a subdivision of General Motors, these have not been available to other manufacturers of buses.

This is a point which presents some novel questions. Must a company which has invested its own capital in an enterprise share the fruits of that venture with a competitor? If so, then why should not the government provide the capital for a joint enterprise in the first place and save the large company any of the risk or the costs of research and development, too? It's a question not easily answered without approaching the cartel system.

The principles, moreover, which apply to big business apply equally to small business, and that's why any decisions reached in the General Motors case can affect business practices far and wide.

The broad question, of course, which has been occupying the Department of Justice in recent years, is the size of modern businesses. Shall corporations be permitted to grow to the point where they have as much as 80 per cent of the business in a given industry? Do those corporations enjoy any privileged position in getting capital or in financing customers' purchases? How far shall companies be allowed to use their financial and economic power in a competitive way?

These points probably will be aired before the antitrust suit is adjudicated. But the way to more effective competition in America doesn't lie in the courts. Rather it is in the action that can be taken by Congress itself. Many members of the House and Senate talk a lot about "big business," but they are indifferent to the things that cause big business to get bigger and bigger.

Thus, under the Democratic regime, big business got its best breaks. The excess-profits-tax laws were written in such a way that the larger corporations paid relatively little tax because they had the benefit of large capital in the first place, whereas the smaller businesses were penalized heavily and were unable in their best profit years to accumulate needed capital for future expansion.

Even today the tax laws favor big business. Likewise, neither political party leadership has the courage today to do anything about the fixing of production costs which is brought about by the concerted action of labor unions in a given industry. Although a company is small and trying to compete with the larger one, it is saddled just the same with the wage scales and "fringe benefits" and expensive provisions of labor contracts that the larger companies can easily absorb but which the smaller companies cannot.

It's harder and harder for small business to compete because big business and big unionism have all the advantages in existing laws. Antitrust suits can do little to cure the situation. They merely penalize efficiency while Congress forgets that its own laws prevent competition from growing as it should under the private-enterprise system.

Vigorous Oldsters Lead Happy, Healthy Lives

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The number of men and women over 65 has risen tremendously during the last 20 years. The situation has been viewed with alarm, particularly from the social, economical points of view. But the problem presented is not as great as we are led to believe.

More beds are used in chronic disease hospitals and there is a shortage of nursing homes and disability in this age group. In keeping with the times and cannot be blamed upon more sickness and disability in this age group.2 In my opinion, our senior folk are doing a marvelous job of taking care of themselves.

Many are happy and healthy despite their years. They serve as a good example of how the younger generation should live. Their middle years were spent during the prohibition era and the per capital use of cigarets had not reached its present staggering proportions. The majority got more sleep and exercise because there was less electricity and mechanization in their youth. The death rate from infection was high when today's oldsters were children, and only the healthiest survived.

Retirement can be pleasurable, provided the change in the mode of living is made gradually by preparing for the transition. Boredom kills. A machine rusts and deteriorates when it is not used and an unoccupied house falls apart. Man must continue to do something to survive and for this reason some type of work is desirable. What is done is not as important as to whether he derives satisfaction from what he is doing. Much depends upon his skills, health, and need for money.

But at this time of life rest is just as important as work and exercise. The proper amount will lead to a minimum of fatigue and wear and tear. It should not be overdone, as too much stiffens the joints and slows circulation.

Diversion also appears to be an essential ingredient of longevity. It makes no difference what the pastime is, so long as it keeps the mind and body active. It may not be easy after 65 to be moderate in eating, drinking, working, playing, smoking, and resting, particularly when the retired person is lonely or fears losing friends or becoming disabled.

DIAGNOSING HAY FEVER

C. V. writes: Do doctors have certain tests to administer which will tell whether a person has hay fever?

REPLY

Diagnosis is made by the patient's story and his nasal congestion, red eyelids, flowing tears, and spells of sneezing. Tests are done to determine the specific allergen.

ENLARGED PROSTRATE

J. W. writes: If a man's prostate is enlarged, but causing no trouble, is operation necessary?

REPLY

No, provided enlargement is not due to tumor. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on disorders of the prostate, which goes into the anatomy of this organ and abnormalities that may affect it.

ITCHING EAR CANALS

E. M. writes: The openings of my ears are so itchy I scratch until they are sore. Can you throw any light on my problem?

REPLY

Yes, but I prefer to have your physician throw his light in your ear and take a good look. The most common cause of otitis externa, a dry scaly condition, is a fungous infection, but the disorder also could stem from a bacterial infection or seborrheic dermatitis. In the latter disorder the scalp is oily and covered with greasy dandruff, which often spreads to the ears.

DENT REMAINS

T. F. writes: When I touch something the skin of my fingertips does not spring back but remains dented after I take my hand away. I'm middle-aged and in good health. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

This occurs when the fat depots at the ends of the fingers are not well stocked. Pitting of the skin is noted when the tissues are waterlogged, although it is more common in the feet than the hands.

EYE "DOCTORS"

T. W. writes: Is there any difference between an oculist and an eye doctor?

REPLY

No. Optometrists are persons without medical training who fit glasses to correct visual defects. Strictly speaking, an eye doctor is an ophthalmologist, a physician with a medical degree who specializes in diseases of the eyes and, in addition, fits glasses.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

GOP Congressmen Try To Head Off Full-Scale Probe Of Gen. Swing

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Gen. Joe Swing, the swaggering Commissioner of Immigration and Ike's classmate, '15, at West Point, has been the subject of frantic phone calls from GOP Congressmen to Democratic Congressmen. They are trying to head off a full-dress investigation of the General.

Reason for Republican worry is easy to understand. In a session before Congressman Bob Mollahans (D-W. Va.) Government Operations subcommittee last week, various of the General's activities were probed, especially his hunting expeditions into Mexico.

General Swing has developed an acute and apparently uncontrollable aptitude for guzzling at the public trough. With the passage of time and years in government, his sense of knowing the difference between government property and private property has dimmed.

Thus he not only got the Immigration Director in El Paso to draft a Mexican maid at low wages for his home in Washington, but he also ordered an Immigration Service plane to carry Attorney General Brownell around Texas on a political pilgrimage to Dixiecrat Governor Shivers.

In addition, he has given his daughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Swing Mitchell, a job in the Immigration Service working under papa. Press officials of the Immigration Service admitted this fact but were loath to reveal her salary, even though the salaries of all government officials are required to be public.

In testimony last week, General Swing admitted he had taken government cars on hunting trips into Mexico. He also admitted that on one occasion Mexican officials had disarmed his hunting companions because they had no license. He claimed, however, that when this happened he had left the party.

Quick Firing

The manner in which the Eisenhower Administration fires its officials at the drop of the hat when an official stubs his toe was revealed in the Senate Civil Service Committee probe of the Farmers Home Administration.

On March 21 this column reported certain facts about Carl O. Hansen, Montana Director of the Farmers Home Administration — how he did private wool-buying on the side, how he was a part owner of TV Station KOOK, how he used government money to make private phone calls and write private correspondence.

The sworn Senate testimony which follows tells what happened a few hours after publication of this column:

H. W. Brawley, of the Senate Committee, asked: In March 21, 1956, a newspaper columnist published charges of misconduct against Carl O. Hansen, former FHA Director in Montana. Within a very few hours after that column was published Mr. Hansen's resignation was announced. Did you in any way force or request that resignation?

R. B. McLeaish, head of FHA: I requested it, yes, sir.

Brawley: On what basis did you request it?

McLeaish: Mr. Chairman, I should consult counsel. The investigation of Mr. Hansen is not complete. There are certain aspects to it I think which would prevent me from testifying in answering that question. In other words, there may be some additional litigation or procedure in court that might be affected.

Brawley: Do you mean that the first you knew of Mr. Hansen's misconduct was the story you saw in the newspapers?

McLeaish: We had had some rumors before that, not about misconduct. Very frankly, I don't know yet, of my own knowledge, of any misconduct.

Brawley: Why did you request his resignation?

McLeaish: I think I have answered that question before, by saying that it is a question I can't answer.

Sen. Carlson of Kansas: Do I understand, then, Mr. McLeaish, that this case is still being taken under consideration and study by the department or your agency?

McLeaish: Could I let my counsel speak for me on that?

Brawley: Unless the question pertains to some security matter, I don't see how you can fail to answer the question before this Committee.

Sen. Laird of West Virginia: Mr. McLeaish has testified that he discharged Mr. Hansen and I think it is proper to tell the committee why he discharged him.

McLeaish: In a general way we thought the (Montana) program was being neglected some.

Brawley: Do you mean the FHA program in Montana?

McLeaish: Yes.

Brawley: Is that the reason you requested Mr. Hansen's resignation?

McLeaish: There has been a preliminary investigation report filed which does show some evidence of misconduct, prior to the Drew Pearson article.

Brawley: Prior to the Drew Pearson article?

McLeaish: Prior to the Drew Pearson article. I think it came in that day or the day before.

Brawley: Were you investigating Mr. Hansen at the time this column was written?

McLeaish: Yes, I was.

Brawley: I think the record ought to show why you requested Mr. Hansen's resignation. You say for that record that it was because the program was not operating as you thought it should in Montana?

McLeaish: Very frankly, we had a meeting of Mr. Scott, Mr. Farrington, and myself and another, and they reported to me that the report looked pretty bad and that we should remove Mr. Hansen from office.

L. C. Bryan, Senate investigator: May I ask whether you could not form that conclusion on your own responsibility? That you had to be told by higher authority that the report looked pretty bad?

McLeaish: Of course I didn't get the report.

Brawley: When did you get the report?

McLeaish: I didn't get it until some weeks—I mean my copy of the report—until some weeks after Mr. Hansen had been removed.

Brawley: Did you actually request his resignation on the day the column was written?

McLeaish: I think we did.

Disarmament Dilemma

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

When President Eisenhower returns to the White House in a week or so, he will find his desk loaded high with all sorts of grave and pressing decisions. Among them will be this question: Is it worth making one last try to negotiate seriously on disarmament with the Soviets?

American League Is 6-5 Choice In All-Star Game Today

Stengel Nominates Pierce, Ford And Score As Hurlers

Friend Will Start For N.L.; 29,000 To Attend 23rd Battle

By JACK HAND

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Left-handed Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox will face right-handed Bob Friend of Pittsburgh in the 23rd All-Star baseball game tomorrow at Griffith Stadium with Mickey Mantle, limping New York Yankee slugger, in the starting lineup for the American League.

Although Mantle still wore a brace to support his injured right knee, the switcher was named by Manager Casey Stengel to open in center field "as of now." Old Case said he would watch Mantle carefully in pre-game practice to see how he reacted to Sunday's action. If it is necessary to restrict Mantle to a pinch hitting role, Jimmy Piersall of the Boston Red Sox will replace him with resultant shifts of the batting order.

Ford, Score To Hurl

Stengel surprised by announcing three lefthander pitchers would work against the Cincinnati-dominated National lineup. After Pierce (13-3), will come Whitey Ford (10-4) of the Yankees and probably Herb Score (8-6) who was drafted from Cleveland as a late replacement for sore-armed Ray Narleski.

Pierce, 29, is the top winner in the majors and had an eight-game winning streak broken Sunday by Detroit.

"He's great under pressure," said Stengel. "I'm not worried because he got bumped Sunday."

Pierce started in 1953 and 1955 and has given up only two hits and no runs in six innings of All-Star pitching.

Bob Ready To Work

Manager Walter Alston (Brooklyn) of the Nationals had been undecided between Friend and left-handed Warren Spahn of Milwaukee until he talked with Friend on the train en route to Washington.

"He told me reports about this throat infection had been greatly exaggerated," said Alston, "and insisted he was ready to work."

Friend (11-7) will be the first Pittsburgh pitcher to start an All-Star game. He will be one of seven men in the National lineup who will be seeing first All-Star action. Friend has been stalled without a victory since June 16, a victim of the Pirates' batting slump. However, he was regarded as the best in the league for the first two months of the season and led the league in earned run average in '55. As a matter of fact, Pierce also was tops in the American League in earned run average last year.

Spahn Follows Friend

After Friend it probably will be Spahn (7-7) who hasn't worked since Friday when he shut out Chicago. Friend's last outing was a 3-2 defeat Saturday at New York. Robin Roberts (8-10) of the Phillies, who started for the National five times, or Joe Nuxhall (6-8), Cincinnati lefty who was effective in the 1955 game, is the likely third pitcher.

Lineup shifts will depend on the pitching. Alston said he hoped to get as many as possible into the game without hurting his club. Stengel, a born manipulator, always manages to get everybody but the bat boy into the lineup every day.

Game At 1 P.M., EDT

Game time is 12 noon (EST) with a sellout crowd of about 29,000 due to pack the stadium and millions following the game on network radio (Mutual) and television (NBC).

The weatherman is encouraging with a forecast of "mostly sunny, less humid and a high of 85." However, in case it should rain, the game would be played at 7 p.m. (EST) Tuesday, Wednesday morning or Wednesday afternoon, whenever possible.

AL Is 6-5 Choice

Despite the power in the National lineup which boasts 240 homers to 170 by the American, pitchers included, the American remains a 6 to 5 favorite. The fact that the American will be playing in its home park and the past history that shows an American 13-9 edge probably accounts for the favoritism. The National, however, has won five of the last six, including the 1955 game at Milwaukee when Stan Musial broke it up with a 12th inning home run.

The starters, except pitchers, were selected by vote of the fans with a landslide from Cincinnati. They must start and play at least the first three innings unless injured. Pitchers cannot pitch more than three innings unless the game goes into extra innings as it has twice in the last six years. Replacements will be made from each league's 25-man squad.

Kuenn Leads Off

The National order contains only four lefthanders but they pack a large share of the home run power. Second baseman Johnny Temple of Cincinnati leads off, followed by left fielder Frank Robinson of Cincinnati. Then comes right fielder Stan Musial of St. Louis, playing a record 13th All-Star game and third baseman Ken Boyer of St. Louis in the cleanup spot. Center fielder Gus Bell of Cincinnati, first baseman Dale Long of Pittsburgh, catcher Ed Bailey of Cincinnati, shortstop Roy McMillan of Cincinnati and Friend round out the order. Musial, Bell, Long and Bailey are lefthanded batters.

Californian Leads Publinx Tourney

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9 (AP) — Salesman Scotty McBeath of Palo Alto, Calif., shot a three-under-par 69 today to pace the field midway in the first qualifying round of the 31st Amateur Public Links Golf Championships.

McBeath, 34, former northern California amateur champion, put together nines of 34 and 35.

His leading round came early when a heavy dew and moisture from overnight fog bothered many of the amateurs who started on the par 36-36—72 Harding Park course.

Leading in team competition was the threesome from Memphis, Tenn., with 218. Junie Buxbaum and Gene Frase each carded 73s while Eddie Langert had 72. That put the team six strokes in front.

The 18-hole medal play rounds today and tomorrow will decide the 64 qualifiers for the match play beginning Wednesday and also will decide the team championship, won last year by Miami, Fla.

Dick Glendon, 86, Former Navy, Lions Crew Mentor, Dies

HYANNIS, Mass., July 9 (AP) — Richard A. (Dick) Glendon, 86, whose crews at Navy and Columbia paced Eastern racing in the first three decades of the century, died last night at Cape Cod Hospital after a cerebral hemorrhage.

Glendon was an exponent of the body swing or the Glendon layback. His crews swung the body far back for extra power.

A native Cape Codder born at Harwich in 1870, Glendon went to Boston in his teens and began coaching schoolboy and club rowing on the Charles River. In 1903 he went to the Naval Academy, where he stayed for two decades, capturing the Olympic title in 1920.

American League Is 6-5 Choice In All-Star Game Today

Stengel Nominates Pierce, Ford And Score As Hurlers

Friend Will Start For N.L.; 29,000 To Attend 23rd Battle

By JACK HAND

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Left-handed Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox will face right-handed Bob Friend of Pittsburgh in the 23rd All-Star baseball game tomorrow at Griffith Stadium with Mickey Mantle, limping New York Yankee slugger, in the starting lineup for the American League.

Although Mantle still wore a brace to support his injured right knee, the switcher was named by Manager Casey Stengel to open in center field "as of now." Old Case said he would watch Mantle carefully in pre-game practice to see how he reacted to Sunday's action. If it is necessary to restrict Mantle to a pinch hitting role, Jimmy Piersall of the Boston Red Sox will replace him with resultant shifts of the batting order.

Ford, Score To Hurl

Stengel surprised by announcing three lefthander pitchers would work against the Cincinnati-dominated National lineup. After Pierce (13-3), will come Whitey Ford (10-4) of the Yankees and probably Herb Score (8-6) who was drafted from Cleveland as a late replacement for sore-armed Ray Narleski.

Pierce, 29, is the top winner in the majors and had an eight-game winning streak broken Sunday by Detroit.

"He's great under pressure," said Stengel. "I'm not worried because he got bumped Sunday."

Pierce started in 1953 and 1955 and has given up only two hits and no runs in six innings of All-Star pitching.

Bob Ready To Work

Manager Walter Alston (Brooklyn) of the Nationals had been undecided between Friend and left-handed Warren Spahn of Milwaukee until he talked with Friend on the train en route to Washington.

"He told me reports about this throat infection had been greatly exaggerated," said Alston, "and insisted he was ready to work."

Friend (11-7) will be the first Pittsburgh pitcher to start an All-Star game. He will be one of seven men in the National lineup who will be seeing first All-Star action. Friend has been stalled without a victory since June 16, a victim of the Pirates' batting slump. However, he was regarded as the best in the league for the first two months of the season and led the league in earned run average in '55. As a matter of fact, Pierce also was tops in the American League in earned run average last year.

Spahn Follows Friend

After Friend it probably will be Spahn (7-7) who hasn't worked since Friday when he shut out Chicago. Friend's last outing was a 3-2 defeat Saturday at New York. Robin Roberts (8-10) of the Phillies, who started for the National five times, or Joe Nuxhall (6-8), Cincinnati lefty who was effective in the 1955 game, is the likely third pitcher.

Lineup shifts will depend on the pitching. Alston said he hoped to get as many as possible into the game without hurting his club. Stengel, a born manipulator, always manages to get everybody but the bat boy into the lineup every day.

Game At 1 P.M., EDT

Game time is 12 noon (EST) with a sellout crowd of about 29,000 due to pack the stadium and millions following the game on network radio (Mutual) and television (NBC).

The weatherman is encouraging with a forecast of "mostly sunny, less humid and a high of 85." However, in case it should rain, the game would be played at 7 p.m. (EST) Tuesday, Wednesday morning or Wednesday afternoon, whenever possible.

AL Is 6-5 Choice

Despite the power in the National lineup which boasts 240 homers to 170 by the American, pitchers included, the American remains a 6 to 5 favorite. The fact that the American will be playing in its home park and the past history that shows an American 13-9 edge probably accounts for the favoritism. The National, however, has won five of the last six, including the 1955 game at Milwaukee when Stan Musial broke it up with a 12th inning home run.

The starters, except pitchers, were selected by vote of the fans with a landslide from Cincinnati. They must start and play at least the first three innings unless injured. Pitchers cannot pitch more than three innings unless the game goes into extra innings as it has twice in the last six years. Replacements will be made from each league's 25-man squad.

Kuenn Leads Off

The National order contains only four lefthanders but they pack a large share of the home run power. Second baseman Johnny Temple of Cincinnati leads off, followed by left fielder Frank Robinson of Cincinnati. Then comes right fielder Stan Musial of St. Louis, playing a record 13th All-Star game and third baseman Ken Boyer of St. Louis in the cleanup spot. Center fielder Gus Bell of Cincinnati, first baseman Dale Long of Pittsburgh, catcher Ed Bailey of Cincinnati, shortstop Roy McMillan of Cincinnati and Friend round out the order. Musial, Bell, Long and Bailey are lefthanded batters.

Californian Leads Publinx Tourney

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9 (AP) — Salesman Scotty McBeath of Palo Alto, Calif., shot a three-under-par 69 today to pace the field midway in the first qualifying round of the 31st Amateur Public Links Golf Championships.

McBeath, 34, former northern California amateur champion, put together nines of 34 and 35.

His leading round came early when a heavy dew and moisture from overnight fog bothered many of the amateurs who started on the par 36-36—72 Harding Park course.

Leading in team competition was the threesome from Memphis, Tenn., with 218. Junie Buxbaum and Gene Frase each carded 73s while Eddie Langert had 72. That put the team six strokes in front.

The 18-hole medal play rounds today and tomorrow will decide the 64 qualifiers for the match play beginning Wednesday and also will decide the team championship, won last year by Miami, Fla.

Dick Glendon, 86, Former Navy, Lions Crew Mentor, Dies

HYANNIS, Mass., July 9 (AP) — Richard A. (Dick) Glendon, 86, whose crews at Navy and Columbia paced Eastern racing in the first three decades of the century, died last night at Cape Cod Hospital after a cerebral hemorrhage.

Glendon was an exponent of the body swing or the Glendon layback. His crews swung the body far back for extra power.

A native Cape Codder born at Harwich in 1870, Glendon went to Boston in his teens and began coaching schoolboy and club rowing on the Charles River. In 1903 he went to the Naval Academy, where he stayed for two decades, capturing the Olympic title in 1920.

Hundreds of future officers became his lifelong friends. Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz stroked his 1905 crew and Adm. Jonas Ingram was stroke of the '07 crew.

Major Leaguers Ask Pension Credit For Military Service

Players Seek Coverage For Past 5 Years

Fund Will Receive 60 Per Cent Of TV, Radio Money In '57

By GEORGE BOWEN

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP) — Major league baseball owners will be asked to give players pension credit for military service during the past five years, commissioner Ford Frick announced today.

Frick said his recommendation, agreed to at a meeting of the major league executive council and pension committee, will be submitted to the 16 club owners at a meeting in August.

Baseball players who entered military service since Sept. 30, 1951 have not received any credit for it toward their pensions. At present, they are eligible for pensions at age 50 starting at $50 a month for one playing year up to $100 for 10 years.

Those who served in the military during World War II could count their service toward the pension. But such credit was stopped when fighting started in Korea and Frick began a study of its impact.

30 Players Involved

The pension plan was started in 1947 and since then the major league clubs have agreed to underwrite all of the pensions. In return, they get all of the money for the sale of radio and television rights to the World Series and All-Star games.

Starting next year, a new system will go into effect with the player pension fund to receive 60 per cent and the owners 40 per cent of the broadcasting money. A five-year contract for the rights at $16,250,000 recently was negotiated by Frick.

Happy About Pact

Representatives of the players also met today on the eve of the All-Star game and Bob Feller, their leader, reported they "were happy about the new contract."

However, there is expected to be some discussion of the possibility of increasing their pension and starting them before age 50.

Eddie Joost Fired By San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9 (AP) — Joe (Flash) Gordon was named manager of the San Francisco Seals today shortly after Eddie Joost was fired from the job.

Major Leaguers Ask Pension Credit For Military Service

Players Seek Coverage For Past 5 Years

Fund Will Receive 60 Per Cent Of TV, Radio Money In '57

By GEORGE BOWEN

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP) — Major league baseball owners will be asked to give players pension credit for military service during the past five years, commissioner Ford Frick announced today.

Frick said his recommendation, agreed to at a meeting of the major league executive council and pension committee, will be submitted to the 16 club owners at a meeting in August.

Charles Segar, executive secretary to Frick, said approval was anticipated.

Baseball players who entered military service since Sept. 30, 1951 have not received any credit for it toward their pensions. At present, they are eligible for pensions at age 50 starting at $50 a month for one playing year up to $100 for 10 years.

Those who served in the military during World War II could count their service toward the pension. But such credit was stopped when fighting started in Korea and Frick began a study of its impact.

30 Players Involved

Segar estimated 30 to 35 players would be eligible for military credit during the past five years.

The pension plan was started in 1947 and since then the major league clubs have agreed to underwrite all of the pensions. In return, they get all of the money for the sale of radio and television rights to the World Series and All-Star games.

Starting next year, a new system will go into effect with the player pension fund to receive 60 per cent and the owners 40 per cent of the broadcasting money. A five-year contract for the rights at $16,250,000 recently was negotiated by Frick.

Happy About Pact

Representatives of the players also met today on the eve of the All-Star game and Bob Feller, their leader, reported they "were happy about the new contract."

However, there is expected to be some discussion of the possibility of increasing their pension and starting them before age 50.

PLAYER OF DECADE GETS AWARD—Stan (The Man) Musial, right, durable St. Louis Cardinals' slugger, receives the congratulations of Bob Feller, long-time Cleveland Indians' pitcher, upon his selection as "Player Of The Decade" in a poll conducted by The Sporting News. Between them is Musial's prize award, a grandfather's clock. Feller made the presentation yesterday at a Touchdown Club luncheon in Washington preceding Musial's appearance today in his 13th All-Star game. (AP Photofax).

The victory gave Emerick a 3-0 record for the season. He fanned six batsmen and also collected three of his team's 15 hits. Frankenberry, Often and Smith had two hits each and one of the latter's blows was a home run.

Kidwell Has 7 RBIs

Don Kidwell batted in seven runs with a pair of home runs, a triple and single as the Cresaptown Lions walloped LaVale, 13-3, and maintained their lead of two-games in the 8-club circuit. Kidwell hit his first homer with two aboard and his second with one mate on base. John Strickland also figured prominently in the fireworks with two triples, a double and single and O'Neal obtained four one-base knocks. Gary Turley led LaVale's 7-hit attack with a double and single while Mike McKenzie blasted a triple. Dennis Clem went the route for the league leaders and notched his third win against no losses.

Ellerslie came from behind with a two-run rally in the 6th inning to defeat Barton by the score of 4-3.

Ellerslie Is Winner

Walks to Brewer and Roger Cook, coupled with an error and two fielder's choices produced the tying and winning tallies. Royce Waltman drove in Ellerslie's first two runs with timely doubles in the second and fourth inning. Metz's homer with a mate aboard gave Barton a 2-0 lead in the first inning. The Braves took a 3-2 lead in the top of the 6th on Lauder's single, a sacrifce hit and Berry's base knock. Donnie Lowery received credit for the win, giving him a season record of 4-0.

Gordon Named Seals Manager

Eddie Joost Fired By San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9 (AP) — Joe (Flash) Gordon was named manager of the San Francisco Seals today shortly after Eddie Joost was fired from the job.

He managed Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League in 1951 and 1952.

The dismissal of Joost was announced by Jerry Donovan, president of the Seals, who said Gordon will report tomorrow.

Explaining why Joost was dismissed in mid-season, Donovan said: "He is simply not getting the most out of the ball club. I think we should be doing better."

The Seals are in seventh place in the PCL, 14 games out of first.

Rocky May Have Slipped Spinal Disc

BROCKTON, Mass., July 9 (AP)—Retired heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano, hospitalized since Friday with a back injury he thinks he suffered while playing wtih his 3-year-old daughter, today underwent tests for a possible slipped spinal disc.

Dr. Gould said even if it were, the injury would not prevent a ring comeback by Marciano. "Many a slipped disc has been repaired by surgery," he said, citing operations on workers in heavy industry.

Rocky, who was tossing his daughter Mary Ann in the air when he hurt his back, said he expects to remain in the hospital for two or three more days.

Nashua Carries Top Weight In Monmouth 'Cap

Needles Will Not Run On Saturday

OCEANPORT, N. J., July 9 (AP)—Nashua drew top weight of 129 pounds today for the $100,000-added Monmouth Park Handicap, but Mr. Millions will not meet Kentucky Derby hero Needles in the big Saturday race.

Needles, the eccentric Florida-bred colt who is headed for the 3-year-old championship throne, drew 117 pounds for the mile and one quarter race. That is three pounds above the weight for age scale, while Nashua, a 4-year-old, also is three above scale.

Hugh Fontaine, the World War I flying ace who trains Needles for the D. & H. Stable of Jack Dudley, Stillwater, Okla., and Bonnie Heath, Ocala, Fla., said "no thanks" shortly after the weights were issued by John P. Turner Jr., Monmouth Park racing secretary.

"He won four of them. Needles has had a hard spring and early summer of racing. He needs a rest. We are not going to try and beat Nashua.

"His next start will be in the American Derby at Washington Park in Chicago Aug. 18."

Arcaro Is Aboard Winner At Jamaica

JAMAICA, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—Le Edwards' King Hairan, one of t contenders for juvenile honors, w the 64th running of the $22,100 Tr mont Stakes as Jamaica opened 4-day summer meeting.

The son of King's Stride-Lad Hairan, ridden by Eddie Arcar scored by a length and three quar ers over Mrs. W. Thorn Kissel Gavel, who finished a length an half ahead of John S. Kroese' Little Hermit.

It was the fifth stake for King Hairan, who had previously annexed the Florida Breeders and Hialeah Juvenile at Hialeah, the Gulfstream Dinner Stakes at Gulfstream and the Christiana at Delaware Park.

Solid choice with the crowd of 24,587, King Tairan returned the across the board mutuels of $2.50, $2.30 and $2.10. Gavel paid $4.10 and $2.20 and Little Hermit was $2.20 to show.

The victory was worth $14,950 to Edwards, former Florida racing commissioner, and jacked King Hairan's lifetime earnings to $74,075.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 9 (INS) metime this week, Mike To ll play host to a group of R ns from the Soviet cultural d n. I'm told Mike was asked e State Department to show th viets the cultural aspects of ou vn, but Mike refused to com nt on this.

He recently visited Moscow, an ranged to have a premiere o Around the World in 80 Days' ere November 15. The picture ill open first in New York, then ondon, then Paris, and then exico City before it is shown to he Russians.

Meanwhile, Art Cohen, who did uch a good job with Joe E. Lewis' book, "The Joker Is Wild," is writing the life story of the irrepressible Todd.

When Shirley Booth opens here on the 16th in "Desk Set," one of the first nighters will be Walter Lang. 20th Century-Fox has asked him to direct the picture as his next, and Walter is going to take a look at it and see if he feels it is right for him.

He certainly is the fair haired boy now with "The King and I" cleaning up in New York and Hollywood both. Producer Charles Brackett is also getting plenty of praise.

The infatuated Sydney Chaplin, who followed the Italian beauty, Elsa Martinelli, to Europe, must be very happy that she will be back in Hollywood August first.

It didn't take Kirk Douglas long to cable Elsa after she was chosen last Tuesday as the top actress at the West Berlin film festival, summoning her for his leading lady in "King Kelly." She is under contract for two pictures a year to Douglas.

When James Cagney gets here this fall to make "Man of 1000 Faces," the story of Lon Chaney, he's going to stay right on at U. I. to star in "The Devil's Hornpipe," a musical by Maxwell Anderson and Reuben Mamoulian which has not yet been produced on the stage.

It's the story of a Damon Runyon-type racketeer whose beat is Broadway, a lighter version of the tough guys Cagney used to play. Anderson has written the lyrics and Allie Wrubel the music, and Producer Aaron Rosenberg gives Jimmy a chance to go into his song and dance routines — in a racketeer-ish way.

Carol Channing, who has been sitting out her time in Las Vegas getting a divorce, returns to town to do a Screen Gem telefilm for the Ford Theatre called "The Menace of Hasty Heights." Joseph Hoffman will produce it, and although Carol has done live TV many times, this is her first television film.

When Carol is free she will marry Charles Loew, which should be the last of this month.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Marlon Brando and screen star of the silent days Sessue Hayakawa, who is in "Teahouse of the August Moon" with him, at Zardi's Jazzland. They had two girls but Brando kept their names secret.

Roberta Peters, the Met star married to Bertram Fields, is expecting her second baby.

Mrs. Lee Strasberg accompanies Marilyn Monroe to London to coach her for "The Sleeping Prince." Lee and their daughter Susan also go to Europe.

Had a wonderful weekend at the Sands in Las Vegas. Nat (King) Cole is there, and he's better than ever with a batch of new songs.

A young pair of comics, Dan wan and Dick Martin, could ry well be another Martin and wis. Mike Connolly was all for ning them up, but the Sands' ck Entratter beat him to it.

At the Sahara, Martha Raye is tting on a great show, assisted y the Kirby Stone quintet. Martha down to 110 pounds and looks ke a glamor girl. Her boyfriend, l Riddel, a Sahara dealer, was alled east by his mother's illness. Martha admits he's her favorite escort, but says she won't be marrying anybody.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Nashua Carries Top Weight In Monmouth 'Cap

Needles Will Not Run On Saturday

OCEANPORT, N. J., July 9 (AP)—Nashua drew top weight of 129 pounds today for the $100,000-added Monmouth Park Handicap, but Mr. Millions will not meet Kentucky Derby hero Needles in the big Saturday race.

Needles, the eccentric Florida-bred colt who is headed for the 3-year-old championship throne, drew 117 pounds for the mile and one quarter race. That is three pounds above the weight for age scale, while Nashua, a 4-year-old, also is three above scale.

Hugh Fontaine, the World War I flying ace who trains Needles for the D. & H. Stable of Jack Dudley, Stillwater, Okla., and Bonnie Heath, Ocala, Fla., said "no thanks" shortly after the weights were issued by John P. Turner Jr., Monmouth Park racing secretary.

"He won four of them. Needles has had a hard spring and early summer of racing. He needs a rest. We are not going to try and beat Nashua.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 9 (INS) metime this week, Mike To 'll play host to a group of R ns from the Soviet cultural d n. I'm told Mike was asked e State Department to show th viets the cultural aspects of ot vn, but Mike refused to com nt on this.

He recently visited Moscow, an ranged to have a premiere o Around the World in 80 Days' ere November 15. The picture ill open first in New York, then ondon, then Paris, and then exico City before it is shown to e Russians.

Meanwhile, Art Cohen, who did uch a good job with Joe E. Lewis' book, "The Joker Is Wild," is writing the life story of the irrepressible Todd.

When Shirley Booth opens here on the 16th in "Desk Set," one of the first nighters will be Walter Lang. 20th Century-Fox has asked him to direct the picture as his next, and Walter is going to take a look at it and see if he feels it is right for him.

He certainly is the fair haired boy now with "The King and I" cleaning up in New York and Hollywood both. Producer Charles Brackett is also getting plenty of praise.

The infatuated Sydney Chaplin, who followed the Italian beauty, Elsa Martinelli, to Europe, must be very happy that she will be back in Hollywood August first.

It didn't take Kirk Douglas long to cable Elsa after she was chosen last Tuesday as the top actress at the West Berlin film festival, summoning her for his leading lady in "King Kelly." She is under contract for two pictures a year to Douglas.

When James Cagney gets here this fall to make "Man of 1000 Faces," the story of Lon Chaney, he's going to stay right on at U. I. to star in "The Devil's Hornpipe," a musical by Maxwell Anderson and Reuben Mamoulian which has not yet been produced on the stage.

It's the story of a Damon Runyon-type racketeer whose beat is Broadway, a lighter version of the tough guys Cagney used to play. Anderson has written the lyrics and Allie Wrubel the music, and Producer Aaron Rosenberg gives Jimmy a chance to go into his song and dance routines — in a racketeer-ish way.

Carol Channing, who has been sitting out her time in Las Vegas getting a divorce, returns to town to do a Screen Gem telefilm for the Ford Theatre called "The Menace of Hasty Heights." Joseph Hoffman will produce it, and although Carol has done live TV many times, this is her first television film.

When Carol is free she will marry Charles Loew, which should be the last of this month.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Marlon Brando and screen star of the silent days Sessue Hayakawa, who is in "Teahouse of the August Moon" with him, at Zardi's Jazzland. They had two girls but Brando kept their names secret.

Roberta Peters, the Met star married to Bertram Fields, is expecting her second baby.

Mrs. Lee Strasberg accompanies Marilyn Monroe to London to coach her for "The Sleeping Prince." Lee and their daughter Susan also go to Europe.

Had a wonderful weekend at the Sands in Las Vegas. Nat (King) Cole is there, and he's better than ever with a batch of new songs.

A young pair of comics, Dan wan and Dick Martin, could ry well be another Martin and ewis. Mike Connolly was all for ning them up, but the Sands' ck Entratter beat him to it.

At the Sahara, Martha Raye is tting on a great show, assisted y the Kirby Stone quintet. Martha down to 110 pounds and looks ke a glamor girl. Her boyfriend, l Riddel, a Sahara dealer, was alled east by his mother's illness. Martha admits he's her favorite escort, but says she won't be marrying anybody.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

In such cases, he is duty-bound to take all possible measures to keep that defender from getting the lead. An example of this technique was furnished by South in today's hand.

East played the king of spades on the opening lead, and South correctly decided to win it. Starting with seven top tricks, he planned to develop the additional two he needed in such a way that East could not gain the lead in the process. Thus, he dismissed the thought of playing the king and another diamond and finessing against the queen, because these plays would subject him to a ruinous spade return from East.

Instead, South played a heart to the king, and led the jack of diamonds. When East played a low diamond, South did likewise. Had the finesse lost, nine tricks would have blossomed at the same instant. Declarer was now one step closer to home—he had eight sure winners.

The diamond suit was temporarily abandoned because South did not know whether the suit would break 3-2 or 4-1. If the suit broke 3-2, ten tricks were sure, but in that case, they could just as well be taken later. He needed protection against the possibility that East had four diamonds.

Accordingly, a low club was led from dummy, South finessing the eight. Although it lost to the king, trick number nine magically was assured. Any return by West in any suit was bound to make the contract.

A four suit endplay is rare in bridge. The winning position achieved grew out of South's plan to protect his tenuous spade holding. The two finesses he took were designed to lose, if they did, to West.

South's willingness to lose tricks to West had no charitable basis. It was simply a matter of self-preservation.

WIFE PRESERVERS

When you are using your home typewriter, don't yank the paper out of it. Roll it out. Yanking puts a shine on the roller which causes the paper to slip and necessitates servicing the machine.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Junk Man Given Release On Bond

The area junk dealer designated as a "Fagin" in a recent hearing in Juvenile Court has been released from Allegany County jail under $1,000 bond for action of the October grand jury.

The man, John R. Anderson, Midland, was charged with receiving stolen goods and given a preliminary hearing last Friday before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason. He was lodged in the county jail in default of bond.

The case developed when 12 Midland area boys were given a hearing in Juvenile Court on charges of stealing metal in the Midland area.

WIFE PRESERVERS

When you are using your home typewriter, don't yank the paper out of it. Roll it out. Yanking puts a shine on the roller which causes the paper to slip and necessitates servicing the machine.

African music, especially that of stringed instruments, is displeasing to the ears of whites, who can't recall or repeat even the simplest African musical refrains.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

M K E J T I A R S J Y W C J L Y M M S J • C K L Z Q T B J N Y L C Y O J I Q S M K E J T T Q U M K C J — M I L R A J M M I B.

Junk Man Given Release On Bond

The area junk dealer designated as a "Fagin" in a recent hearing in Juvenile Court has been released from Allegany County jail under $1,000 bond for action of the October grand jury.

The man, John R. Anderson, Midland, was charged with receiving stolen goods and given a preliminary hearing last Friday before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason. He was lodged in the county jail in default of bond.

The case developed when 12 Midland area boys were given a hearing in Juvenile Court on charges of stealing metal in the Midland area.

Fourth Straight Advance Posted By Stock Market

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP) — The stock market plugged ahead routinely today for its fourth straight advance.

In a trading session notable for lack of leadership by any particular group, pivotal stocks improved by fractions to a point.

Here and there some issues advanced 2 or 3 points. There was a scattering of losers, too, particularly among rails which were on the downside all day.

Steels once again rose moderately after an uncertain start as the market began its second week under the shadow of the nationwide strike. Motors, which made a virtually motionless start, picked up some trading interest and moved ahead a bit.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 40 cents to $185.90 with the industrials up $1.50, the rails down 90 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Fourth Straight Advance Posted By Stock Market

In a trading session notable for lack of leadership by any particular group, pivotal stocks improved by fractions to a point.

Here and there some issues advanced 2 or 3 points. There was a scattering of losers, too, particularly among rails which were on the downside all day.

Steels once again rose moderately after an uncertain start as the market began its second week under the shadow of the nationwide strike. Motors, which made a virtually motionless start, picked up some trading interest and moved ahead a bit.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 40 cents to $185.90 with the industrials up $1.50, the rails down 90 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Standard Brands, by virtue of one big trade of 38,000 shares, topped the most-active list, up ¾ at 39½ on a total turnover of 39,600 shares.

Ridgeley Orders Enforcement Of Curfew Plan

Bike Registration Dates Announced

Ridgeley will begin enforcing its curfew and dog ordinances beginning today, according to Mayor Charles Fryer.

He said Police Chief Harry Detrick has been notified that the curfew is to be strictly enforced, beginning tonight at 10 o'clock.

The curfew ordinance, passed in April, requires that all children under the age of 18 must be in their homes when the siren sounds the curfew at 10 p. m.

Penalties ranging from $5 to $25 are set up in the ordinance for violations, according to Mayor Fryer.

He said strict enforcement was ordered after attempts to secure compliance by cooperation failed.

Also slated today is the strict enforcement of the town's dog ordinance.

Mayor Fryer said the ordinance requires that all dogs, licensed or unlicensed, be on a leash.

Licensed dogs picked up, he said, will be held 15 days and unlicensed ones held for five days. There is a penalty of $1 a day for each day the dog is held, he said.

Ridgeley has decided not to issue bicycle licenses this year, Mayor Fryer said, but will require that all bike owners register.

Bicycles are to be brought to the Town Council Chamber Wednesday and Friday, between 9 a. m. and noon.

The Ridgeley mayor said a record of the bike's serial number and owner will be kept, so they will be on hand in case the vehicle is stolen.

All Ridgeley residents, he said, are urged to cut weeds in vacant lots as soon as possible.

Post Offices Getting Ball Point Pens

When you go to the local Post Office on or about September 1, and decide to address an envelope or send a card to a friend, you will be furnished with a ball-point pen at the writing desks.

The experimental use of ball-point pens in Post Office lobbies has proved satisfactory and they will go into general use about Labor Day.

Green in color, the pens will be stamped with the words, "Property of the Post Office." In reference to pilferage of these new pens, postal authorities point out that few individuals will risk up to a year in prison or up to $500 in fines by stealing a pen labeled as Government property and held to the desk by a strong metal chain.

Contracts have been signed for the furnishing of a half million pens, a similar number of refills and some 300,000 metal chains for use in the 37,863 United States Post Offices.

Hotel Operator Rescues Woman

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., July 9 (AP)—James W. Walsh, 78-year-old proprietor of the Parsons Hotel, heard a radio news bulletin this morning that his hotel was on fire.

He dashed down the stairs of the inn for a personal look and heard banging noises and muffled cries from a ready-to-wear shop located in the building.

Mrs. Charles B. Casto, 75-year-old operator of the shop, was bound and partially gagged in the back of the shop and a fire was gaining headway.

He dragged Mrs. Casto to safety and firemen, already on the way, soon put out the blaze.

Mrs. Casto had been surprised by two holdup men as she arrived at the shop carrying Saturday sales receipts of $190 to $200. She told police they seized and bound her, set fire to a pile of clothing and fled with the money.

Young Roofer Badly Burned In Paint Fire

Hugh Stewart, 16, Treated At Hospital

A 16-year-old Pittsburgh boy was badly burned about the legs and arms yesterday in a roof painting mishap on Fairview Avenue and was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital. The youth, however, refused admittance to the hospital despite second and possible third degree burns suffered in the accident.

Hugh Stewart, 16, an employe of a Pittsburgh slate roofing concern, was burned when he shut off a compressor motor in a burning truck in an attempt to avert a possible explosion from paint and gasoline in the vehicle.

A cousin, Charles Stewart, 19, also of Pittsburgh, then fought the flames in the burning paint and roofing truck with a garden hose until they were extinguished. The action of both youths saved valuable equipment and kept the blaze from spreading to the house of Arthur F. Stratton, 537 Fairview Avenue, at whose residence the two men were working.

Looking For Work

Witnesses said the two roofers had completed some work in the city and were looking for additional roofing work in the North End area.

They had been given the job of repairing and painting the slate roof of the Stratton home and had just begun to work about 3:30 in the afternoon when the accident occurred.

The compressor motor apparently sparked setting afire the paint and pitch tar in the truck as the two Stewarts were climbing a ladder with a hose from the compressor to the roof of the Stratton house.

The younger Stewart immediately jumped from the ladder seven feet onto the roof of the truck and inserted his left hand into the blaze to shut off the motor. His paint-splattered clothing caught fire and the boy kicked off his shoes and rolled in the grass of the St. Patrick's Cemetery in an attempt to extinguish the flames.

Painting In Front

Arthur Stratton, who had been painting in the front of the house, ran to the boy's aid, tore off his clothes and helped put out the fire by smothering it with rags.

A daughter-in-law of Stratton, Mrs. James Stratton, who resides next door at 539 Fairview Avenue, tossed a rug to the two to help put out the flames.

She then ran to her home, got a garden hose which was connected to an outside water spigot and returned to the truck which was parked alongside the house.

Charles Stewart took the hose and climbed onto the burning truck, squirting the flames with the water until they were extinguished.

He then borrowed a hacksaw from the Strattons to cut connecting hose in the truck to keep the flames from re-igniting.

Stratton took the burned youth clothed in some of Stratton's clothes to the hospital where he was treated for first and second degree burns of the entire left leg, second and possible third degree burns of the left arm and hand and other assorted burns. Attendants had to cut away paint burned into his arm.

The hospital officials said they tried to contact the boy's parents to get him to stay at the hospital but he refused to be admitted.

Mrs. James Stratton said later her young son, James, Jr., 12, and a cousin, Wayne Stratton, 11, had been playing at the truck watching the compressor work. The two youngsters walked away from the vehicle only moments before the truck blazed up in flames.

Marland Says West Virginia Needs Highway

Interstate System Is His Objective

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 9 (AP)—Gov. Wm. C. Marland emphasized today his contention that West Virginia must "bend every effort" for a north-south highway through the state as part of an interstate system.

He made his remarks at a news conference, in response to questioning about action that the Legislature's Committee on Turnpike Extensions took last Saturday.

The committee decided against a special summer session of the Legislature to consider extending the West Virginia Turnpike northward from Charleston. Instead, it named Senate President Ralph Bean and House Speaker W. E. Flannery to visit West Virginia's congressional delegation and senators in Washington to push for a north-south free road.

Marland said his office also is working on a north - south route, but added nothing in definite.

"The logical place to push for the north-south route is in the extra 1,000 miles Congress tacked onto the federal road bill," Marland said.

He referred to legislation Congress recently passed for a 40,000 mile network on interstate highways throughout the United States. The legislation also included an additional 1,000 miles which is open for bidding by the various states.

Reservists Get Several Awards

Sgt. Robert E. Anderson, LaVale, was awarded a cigaret lighter for being the "top shooter," on the rifle range during the company's recent summer camp at the Naval Ammunition Depot, Crane, Ind.

His score was 232 points out of a possible 250 points which qualifies him for the expert medal. Pvt. Robert Goller, of Short Gap, was second with a 227 score. He was also presented a cigaret lighter and expert's medal.

Major Patsy Algieri, commanding officer of the local unit, presented a $25 savings bond to Pvt. James K. Cross, of 517 Central Avenue, for recruiting the most new members for the company during the past three months.

He brought in four new members.

Local Resident Wins Contest Prize

The award was presented by F. B. Sims, manager of the Montgomery Ward and Company store here where she submitted her entry blank. Sims pointed out that 41 of the 87 national prizes were won by Ward customers, including the first prize winner who received a 1956 Pontiac station wagon.

Many Sightseers Visit Md. Washington Monument

During the summertime, many vacationers enjoy sightseeing places with historical background and they get a thrill out of strolling over ground where history was was made when the United States was still a young republic.

Such a place in nearby Washington County, according to William H. Johnson, district forester, is the Washington Monument State Park, located two miles east of Boonsboro and one and a half miles north of U. S. Alternate Route 40 at Middletown. The elevation is 1,500 feet.

Three states are visible from the top of the monument, the first memorial erected to George Washington. Included are such historical sites as Antietam, bloodiest battlefield of the Civil War, Harper's Ferry, where John Brown took his stand, Winchester, Va., scene of General Sheridan's famous ride, the route of General Braddock to his disastrous Indian defeat, and land surveyed by Washington for Lord Fairfax.

Offers Relaxation

Aside from its historical background, the park offers relaxation for persons who like to hike along wooded trails, go picnicking or "rough it" by camping out.

The famous Appalachian Trail winds through the park and by the base of the monument. In all, there are 36 miles of trails for hiking, nature study and bird watching. The Cumberland Valley is a flyaway for migratory birds, and an annual count of migrating hawks and eagles is made at the monument by ornithologists.

As for picnicking, there are two sites with a large playfield between them. Available are 50 picnic tables, 25 fireplaces, seven shelters, water and sanitary conveniences.

Also a concession for light refreshments and soft drinks is operated in the area. There are 20 tent sites, adjacent to water and sanitary conveniences for those persons who like to "rough it." Reservations must be made with the park superintendent.

Standing 34 feet high on the summit of South Mountain, a spur of the Blue Ridge, it looks down on the village of Boonsboro, 1500 feet below, whose inhabitants wished to keep green the memory of the Father of His Country, who had been dead only 28 years.

Marble Tablet

On the side toward Boonsboro was placed a marble tablet inscribed: Erected in Memory of Washington July 4, 1827 by the citizens of Boonsboro. The tower became a populer rendezvous, but in time, weather and vandalism reduced it to ruins.

In 1882 it was restored by the Odd Fellows Lodge of Boonsboro and after falling into ruin again the Washington County Historical Society bought the one-acre site, and in 1934 deeded it to Maryland for a State Park.

The tower was again rebuilt by Civilian Conservation Corps labor after the original design, and development of a 40-acre park was started. The park now consists of 108 acres.

There is a free public use area, but most areas are on a reserved basis for a small fee. Further information or reservations may be obtained by writing to:

Welfare Board Receives New Directory

Unmarried Mothers May Get Data

Mrs. Elinor Westerfeld, director of the Allegany County Welfare Department, announced yesterday that she has received a directory of facilities available to unmarried mothers who need to live away from home.

The directory is being distributed to social agencies throughout Maryland by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Recognizing that many unmarried mothers wish to plan for temporary living arrangements and delivery at a distance from their own communities, the pamphlet describes the services offered by maternity homes and hospitals in neighboring Delaware, District of Columbia, Pennsylvania and Virginia, as well as New Jersey and New York.

According to the Department, the use of safe, regulated facilities, where case workers and other qualified persons are present, assures the unmarried mother protection from the "gray" and and "black markets" in adoption while she is away from home.

Welfare agencies had previously expressed the need for such a directory in working with many different families and individuals in communities throughout Maryland.

Experience has shown that the unmarried mother is far from being a particular "type' identified with only one segment of society, but actually comes from families representing all levels of education, income and social standing.

Mrs. Westerfeld also said that the Florence Crittenton Home and St. Vincents Home, both of which are located in Baltimore, serve Maryland mothers.

Police Seek Eligible List For Patrolmen

Resignation And Accidents Cited

Citing a dwindling eligible list and a force depleted by resignations, accidents and illness, the Cumberland Police Department is seeking a Civil Service examination for policemen.

Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk and secretary of the Civil Service Commission said yesterday the Police Department has asked that an examination for policemen be held in the near future.

He said he will contact the commission, so a date can be set for the tests.

Two Are Ineligible

Ullery said he was informed by the Police Department that two of the four men on the eligible list are ineligible, one because he is no longer a resident of the city and the other because he refused to accept appointment.

Here is the situation, as related by Police Chief R. E. Flynn.

Three men have resigned to accept other employment. They are Officers Ralph M. Buser, Leo E. P. Law and Walter Dennison.

Detective Joseph Stitcher will be laid up for months because of a recently broken leg.

Are Off Duty

With all men on duty, Chief Flynn said, the force totals 54 men and officers.

Of these, six are off duty each day for their regular days off.

With a full force, there are 18 men on duty each shift, Chief Flynn said.

On each shift, there is an officer in charge, a desk sergeant and patrol driver and two detectives. When all are on duty, there are two officers for Baltimore Street, one for South Cumberland, one each on the Front Street and Centre beats and cruiser officer.

The patrolmen must be spread still thinner, he said, when sickness and accidents hit.

He will succeed Robert Crabtree, who was recently named manager of the telephone office in Frostburg.

Council Cuts Frederick St. Assessments

Compromise Plan Is Passed Unanimously

The Mayor and Council unanimously aproved a compromise assessment plan on the Frederick Street Improvement project yesterday which reduced the cost by $1.25 a lineal foot.

The agreement came after residents of Frederick Street jammed the council chamber to protest paying the cost of a storm sewer and the failure of the city to live up to prior agreements, claiming that as a result of the discussion over costs, lots on Frederick Street cannot be sold.

Under the compromise plan, the City of Cumberland will recover about $17,000 less than the $116,045.50 which would have been paid by property owners under the first proposal.

To Recover Third

The plan adopted will allow the city to recover about one third of its contribution to the federal-aid project.

Total cost of the project, the SRC advised, was $595,221.72, including $530,114.16 for construction and $65,107.56 for engineering and contingencies.

Cost of the project within the city limits was $496,315.29. The federal government contributed $275,000 toward the entire project, including $257,053.50 for the portion inside the city limits. The city's portion of engineering and contingency costs totaled $60,853.64.

Total cost to the city for the project was $300,120.43, and $250,000 of this amount has been forwarded to the Maryland State Roads Commission, which supervised the job.

$50,000 Still Due

Still due from the city for the work, the SRC advised, is $50,120.43.

As of July 1, there was $75,196.13 remaining in the $350,000 Urban Development Bond account, and city officials said the payment of the upcoming bill for the final costs will leave $25,075.70 to apply toward the extension of North George Street and the widening of Franklin Street.

The compromise as agreed upon per lineal foot follows: Woodlawn to Bopp's Addition, approximately $8.67, and for Bopp and Schlundt Additions, approximately $7.10.

So many questions were directed at council that Mayor Roy W. Eves asked for a recess at 11:35 a. m. so that facts and figures could be gathered. Council reconvened at 12:13 p. m. and continued the session until 12:50 p. m.

As originally proposed by the city the total of all assessments against property owners for the project (including aprons) was $116,045.50. This meant an assessment of $9.92065 per lineal from Woodlawn to Bopp's Addition, and $8.35446 for Bopp and Schlundt Additions.

For sidewalks, the assessment was $3.15 per lineal foot of which the property owner would pay $1.575 and the Bureau of Public Roads $1.575 under the federal urban aid program. Bopp and Schlundt Addition pay only material costs or $1.159.

Curbing and gutter amounted to $4.5417 of which half was paid by the Bureau of Public Roads and $2.27085 by property owners. In Bopp and Schlundt Additions material costs only amount to $1.12085.

Storm sewer cost is listed at a total of $163,548.62, of which the Bureau paid half. The remaining $81,774.31 is pro-rated among property owners at $6.0748 a lineal foot.

Agreement Recalled

This charge is what brought the major protest yesterday.

George R. Hughes Jr., attorney representing the Frederick Street Improvement Association, recalled a 1953 agreement whereby property owners would pay half the cost of curbing, guttering and sidewalk. He added the agreement recognized the roadway was being improved and property owners would experience certain inconveniences including the fact traffic would be one-way north, parking would be allowed on only one side of the street, and that the greatest inconvenience would be the fact it is now an arterial highway and trucks use it where they formerly did not.

He said residents have a legitimate complaint. The assessment for the storm sewer, he said, constitutes almost double the cost of the improvement covered by the agreement.

Noting that the sewer is for the area, Hughes said people affected by the cost are Frederick Street people. He also said most property is not improved and produces no income, thereby working a hardship.

Arthur Bopp, Bedford Street, cited previous agreements with the city and said he was only interested in holding down costs. He said he considered this cost excessive and hoped the city will give what was promised originally. He also pointed to another agreement that said when the addition was annex-

Ridgeley Orders Enforcement Of Curfew Plan

Bike Registration Dates Announced

Ridgeley will begin enforcing its curfew and dog ordinances beginning today, according to Mayor Charles Fryer.

He said Police Chief Harry Detrick has been notified that the curfew is to be strictly enforced, beginning tonight at 10 o'clock.

The curfew ordinance, passed in April, requires that all children under the age of 18 must be in their homes when the siren sounds the curfew at 10 p. m.

Penalties ranging from $5 to $25 are set up in the ordinance for violations, according to Mayor Fryer.

He said strict enforcement was ordered after attempts to secure compliance by cooperation failed.

Also slated today is the strict enforcement of the town's dog ordinance.

Mayor Fryer said the ordinance requires that all dogs, licensed or unlicensed, be on a leash.

Licensed dogs picked up, he said, will be held 15 days and unlicensed ones held for five days. There is a penalty of $1 a day for each day the dog is held, he said.

Ridgeley has decided not to issue bicycle licenses this year, Mayor Fryer said, but will require that all bike owners register.

Bicycles are to be brought to the Town Council Chamber Wednesday and Friday, between 9 a. m. and noon.

The Ridgeley mayor said a record of the bike's serial number and owner will be kept, so they will be on hand in case the vehicle is stolen.

All Ridgeley residents, he said, are urged to cut weeds in vacant lots as soon as possible.

Post Offices Getting Ball Point Pens

When you go to the local Post Office on or about September 1, and decide to address an envelope or send a card to a friend, you will be furnished with a ball-point pen at the writing desks.

The experimental use of ball-point pens in Post Office lobbies has proved satisfactory and they will go into general use about Labor Day.

Green in color, the pens will be stamped with the words, "Property of the Post Office." In reference to pilferage of these new pens, postal authorities point out that few individuals will risk up to a year in prison or up to $500 in fines by stealing a pen labeled as Government property and held to the desk by a strong metal chain.

Contracts have been signed for the furnishing of a half million pens, a similar number of refills and some 300,000 metal chains for use in the 37,863 United States Post Offices.

Hotel Operator Rescues Woman

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., July 9 (AP)—James W. Walsh, 78-year-old proprietor of the Parsons Hotel, heard a radio news bulletin this morning that his hotel was on fire.

He dashed down the stairs of the inn for a personal look and heard banging noises and muffled cries from a ready-to-wear shop located in the building.

Mrs. Charles B. Casto, 75-year-old operator of the shop, was bound and partially gagged in the back of the shop and a fire was gaining headway.

He dragged Mrs. Casto to safety and firemen, already on the way, soon put out the blaze.

Mrs. Casto had been surprised by two holdup men as she arrived at the shop carrying Saturday sales receipts of $190 to $200. She told police they seized and bound her, set fire to a pile of clothing and fled with the money.

Young Roofer Badly Burned In Paint Fire

Hugh Stewart, 16, Treated At Hospital

A 16-year-old Pittsburgh boy was badly burned about the legs and arms yesterday in a roof painting mishap on Fairview Avenue and was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital. The youth, however, refused admittance to the hospital despite second and possible third degree burns suffered in the accident.

Hugh Stewart, 16, an employe of a Pittsburgh slate roofing concern, was burned when he shut off a compressor motor in a burning truck in an attempt to avert a possible explosion from paint and gasoline in the vehicle.

A cousin, Charles Stewart, 19, also of Pittsburgh, then fought the flames in the burning paint and roofing truck with a garden hose until they were extinguished. The action of both youths saved valuable equipment and kept the blaze from spreading to the house of Arthur F. Stratton, 537 Fairview Avenue, at whose residence the two men were working.

Looking For Work

Witnesses said the two roofers had completed some work in the city and were looking for additional roofing work in the North End area.

They had been given the job of repairing and painting the slate roof of the Stratton home and had just begun to work about 3:30 in the afternoon when the accident occurred.

The compressor motor apparently sparked setting afire the paint and pitch tar in the truck as the two Stewarts were climbing a ladder with a hose from the compressor to the roof of the Stratton house.

The younger Stewart immediately jumped from the ladder seven feet onto the roof of the truck and inserted his left hand into the blaze to shut off the motor. His paint-splattered clothing caught fire and the boy kicked off his shoes and rolled in the grass of the St. Patrick's Cemetery in an attempt to extinguish the flames.

Painting In Front

Arthur Stratton, who had been painting in the front of the house, ran to the boy's aid, tore off his clothes and helped put out the fire by smothering it with rags.

A daughter-in-law of Stratton, Mrs. James Stratton, who resides next door at 539 Fairview Avenue, tossed a rug to the two to help put out the flames.

She then ran to her home, got a garden hose which was connected to an outside water spigot and returned to the truck which was parked alongside the house.

Charles Stewart took the hose and climbed onto the burning truck, squirting the flames with the water until they were extinguished.

He then borrowed a hacksaw from the Strattons to cut connecting hose in the truck to keep the flames from re-igniting.

Stratton took the burned youth clothed in some of Stratton's clothes to the hospital where he was treated for first and second degree burns of the entire left leg, second and possible third degree burns of the left arm and hand and other assorted burns. Attendants had to cut away paint burned into his arm.

The hospital officials said they tried to contact the boy's parents to get him to stay at the hospital but he refused to be admitted.

Mrs. James Stratton said later her young son, James, Jr., 12, and a cousin, Wayne Stratton, 11, had been playing at the truck watching the compressor work. The two youngsters walked away from the vehicle only moments before the truck blazed up in flames.

Welfare Board Receives New Directory

Unmarried Mothers May Get Data

Mrs. Elinor Westerfeld, director of the Allegany County Welfare Department, announced yesterday that she has received a directory of facilities available to unmarried mothers who need to live away from home.

The directory is being distributed to social agencies throughout Maryland by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Recognizing that many unmarried mothers wish to plan for temporary living arrangements and delivery at a distance from their own communities, the pamphlet describes the services offered by maternity homes and hospitals in neighboring Delaware, District of Columbia, Pennsylvania and Virginia, as well as New Jersey and New York.

According to the Department, the use of safe, regulated facilities, where case workers and other qualified persons are present, assures the unmarried mother protection from the "gray" and and "black markets" in adoption while she is away from home.

Welfare agencies had previously expressed the need for such a directory in working with many different families and individuals in communities throughout Maryland.

Experience has shown that the unmarried mother is far from being a particular "type' identified with only one segment of society, but actually comes from families representing all levels of education, income and social standing.

Mrs. Westerfeld also said that the Florence Crittenton Home and St. Vincents Home, both of which are located in Baltimore, serve Maryland mothers.

Police Seek Eligible List For Patrolmen

Resignation And Accidents Cited

Citing a dwindling eligible list and a force depleted by resignations, accidents and illness, the Cumberland Police Department is seeking a Civil Service examination for policemen.

Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk and secretary of the Civil Service Commission said yesterday the Police Department has asked that an examination for policemen be held in the near future.

He said he will contact the commission, so a date can be set for the tests.

Two Are Ineligible

Ullery said he was informed by the Police Department that two of the four men on the eligible list are ineligible, one because he is no longer a resident of the city and the other because he refused to accept appointment.

Here is the situation, as related by Police Chief R. E. Flynn.

Three men have resigned to accept other employment. They are Officers Ralph M. Buser, Leo E. P. Law and Walter Dennison.

Detective Joseph Stitcher will be laid up for months because of a recently broken leg.

Are Off Duty

With all men on duty, Chief Flynn said, the force totals 54 men and officers.

Of these, six are off duty each day for their regular days off.

With a full force, there are 18 men on duty each shift, Chief Flynn said.

On each shift, there is an officer in charge, a desk sergeant and patrol driver and two detectives. When all are on duty, there are two officers for Baltimore Street, one for South Cumberland, one each on the Front Street and Centre beats and cruiser officer.

The patrolmen must be spread still thinner, he said, when sickness and accidents hit.

Council Cuts Frederick St. Assessments

Compromise Plan Is Passed Unanimously

The Mayor and Council unanimously aproved a compromise assessment plan on the Frederick Street Improvement project yesterday which reduced the cost by $1.25 a lineal foot.

The agreement came after residents of Frederick Street jammed the council chamber to protest paying the cost of a storm sewer and the failure of the city to live up to prior agreements, claiming that as a result of the discussion over costs, lots on Frederick Street cannot be sold.

Under the compromise plan, the City of Cumberland will recover about $17,000 less than the $116,045.50 which would have been paid by property owners under the first proposal.

To Recover Third

The plan adopted will allow the city to recover about one third of its contribution to the federal-aid project.

Total cost of the project, the SRC advised, was $595,221.72, including $530,114.16 for construction and $65,107.56 for engineering and contingencies.

Cost of the project within the city limits was $496,315.29. The federal government contributed $275,000 toward the entire project, including $257,053.50 for the portion inside the city limits. The city's portion of engineering and contingency costs totaled $60,853.64.

Total cost to the city for the project was $300,120.43, and $250,000 of this amount has been forwarded to the Maryland State Roads Commission, which supervised the job.

$50,000 Still Due

Still due from the city for the work, the SRC advised, is $50,120.43.

As of July 1, there was $75,196.13 remaining in the $350,000 Urban Development Bond account, and city officials said the payment of the upcoming bill for the final costs will leave $25,075.70 to apply toward the extension of North George Street and the widening of Franklin Street.

The compromise as agreed upon per lineal foot follows: Woodlawn to Bopp's Addition, approximately $8.67, and for Bopp and Schlundt Additions, approximately $7.10.

So many questions were directed at council that Mayor Roy W. Eves asked for a recess at 11:35 a. m. so that facts and figures could be gathered. Council reconvened at 12:13 p. m. and continued the session until 12:50 p. m.

As originally proposed by the city the total of all assessments against property owners for the project (including aprons) was $116,045.50. This meant an assessment of $9.92065 per lineal from Woodlawn to Bopp's Addition, and $8.35446 for Bopp and Schlundt Additions.

For sidewalks, the assessment was $3.15 per lineal foot of which the property owner would pay $1.575 and the Bureau of Public Roads $1.575 under the federal urban aid program. Bopp and Schlundt Addition pay only material costs or $1.159.

Curbing and gutter amounted to $4.5417 of which half was paid by the Bureau of Public Roads and $2.27085 by property owners. In Bopp and Schlundt Additions material costs only amount to $1.12085.

Storm sewer cost is listed at a total of $163,548.62, of which the Bureau paid half. The remaining $81,774.31 is pro-rated among property owners at $6.0748 a lineal foot.

Agreement Recalled

This charge is what brought the major protest yesterday.

George R. Hughes Jr., attorney representing the Frederick Street Improvement Association, recalled a 1953 agreement whereby property owners would pay half the cost of curbing, guttering and sidewalk. He added the agreement recognized the roadway was being improved and property owners would experience certain inconveniences including the fact traffic would be one-way north, parking would be allowed on only one side of the street, and that the greatest inconvenience would be the fact it is now an arterial highway and trucks use it where they formerly did not.

He said residents have a legitimate complaint. The assessment for the storm sewer, he said, constitutes almost double the cost of the improvement covered by the agreement.

Noting that the sewer is for the area, Hughes said people affected by the cost are Frederick Street people. He also said most property is not improved and produces no income, thereby working a hardship.

Arthur Bopp, Bedford Street, cited previous agreements with the city and said he was only interested in holding down costs. He said he considered this cost excessive and hoped the city will give what was promised originally. He also pointed to another agreement that said when the addition was annex-
